RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO CLAIMS OF ITALY AT THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. VARE offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 21, 1919.

Whereas, President Woodrow Wilson has returned to Paris to attend the Peace Conference for the purpose of drafting terms of peace effecting the settlement of various questions arising out of the World War; and

Whereas, The President has expressed a desire to be the spokesman of the whole American People at the Peace Conference; and

Whereas, Italy has fought with heroism and great sacrifice since its entrance into the war, and has done its share in bringing about the great victory of the Allies; and

Whereas, Italy is making claims at the Peace Conference for restoration of certain lands and territory formerly belonging to it, and for lands and territory necessary for its economic needs, and for its security and preservation; and

Whereas, The citizens of Italian birth in Pennsylvania feel that in justice to Italy for her numerous sacrifices in the Great War, and by virtue of the will expressed by the People who inhabit said territories, the Provinces of Venetia Julia, Fiume and Dalmatia, should be united to Italy; therefore, be it

Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur), That the representatives of the people of the United States at the Peace Conference be requested to exercise their influence to bring about just consideration of the claims of the Italian Government for the restoration of its lands and territories in order that Italy may be secured from future aggression and have a safe place on the Adriatic to prevent future hostilities, and have her national security and preservation; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly attested with the seal of the State, and signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, be forwarded to the President of the United States, and to the representatives of the United States at the Peace Conference.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended, and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

HOUSE MESSAGES.

SENATE BILL NO. 269 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 269, entitled:

An Act to carry out the provisions of section eight article nine of the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania as amended and for that purpose prescribing the method of determining the amount which may be deducted in ascertaining the borrowing capacity of the city of Philadelphia by excluding from the calculation and deducting from its indebtedness so much of the debt of said city as shall have been incurred and the proceeds thereof invested in any public improvements of any character which shall be yielding to the said city an annual current net revenue

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 11, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a Resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives, recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 40, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

WM. C. SPROUL.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 40, file folio 2267, entitled

An Act to amend and revise an act entitled "An Act providing for the incorporation regulation and government of cities of the third class regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto" approved the twenty-seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen enlarging changing modifying and defining certain of the powers of cities of the third class passed finally, be reconsidered.

Mr. ALBERT MILLAR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. ALBERT MILLAR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend House Bill 40, file folio 2267.

In Section 12, page 19, in line 29 and page 20, line 1, strike out "subject to the rights of persons and corporations lawfully using the same"

Amend House Bill 40, file folio 2267.

In Section 27, on page 40, in line 17 after the word "deputy" insert "subject to the approval of counsel which shall fix the salary of said deputy"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 204.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 18, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I herewith return, without my approval, House Bill No. 204, entitled "An Act fixing the salary of the crier of the courts of quarter sessions of the peace and oyer and terminer and general jail delivery in the several counties of this Commonwealth having more than one million and less than one million five hundred thousand inhabitants."

I have just approved a bill extending the existing law to criers of courts of common pleas in such counties. If this bill should be approved, it would create the same discrimination which was cured by the bill just referred to. There is no reason that suggests itself to me why criers of courts of quarter sessions should have more salary than the criers of courts of common pleas. This bill is another salary raising measure, and it is my firm conviction that salaries should not be raised at this time, except where the necessity is most manifest.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

A motion was made by Mr. Ramsey,

That the question, together with the further consideration of the communication, be laid upon the table.

Which was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 168.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 18, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I herewith return, without my approval, House Bill No. 168, entitled "An Act to repeal section eleven of the act approved the eighteenth day of February one thousand eight hundred fifty-four (Pamphlet Laws seventy-nine) entitled 'A supplement to the act incorporating the Pottsville Water Company approved the eleventh day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred thirty-four.'"

This bill, while drawn in the form of a repealing statute, in effect is an amendment of the special Act of 1854, and is therefore a special law amending the charter of a corporation and unconstitutional.

For this reason this bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

A motion was made by Mr. Ramsey,

That the question, together with the further consideration of the communication, be laid upon the table.

Which was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1016, as follows:

An Act to enable county commissioners to abolish election districts in which less than ten qualified electors reside

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in addition to any method now existing by law the county commissioners of any county are authorized to abolish any election district within their respective county in which less than ten qualified electors reside Before any such election district is abolished the county commissioners shall give notice once a week for three weeks in at least two newspapers of the county of a time and place of hearing at which all persons interested may attend and give such evidence as may be pertinent to the matter in question After such hearing the county commissioners shall determine whether such election district has less than ten qualified voters residing therein and if in their judgment such election district is unnecessary they shall make an order to that effect a copy of which shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions.

Section 2 Any person aggreviated by any order made by the county commissioners under the provisions of this act may appeal therefrom to the court of quarter sessions of the county and upon such appeal the court shall hear all parties interested and their witnesses and shall decide whether such election district is useless or burdensome On any such appeal the order of the court shall be final

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all damage done to fruit trees or growing crops or to personal property upon lands open to hunting by bear shall be paid from a fund semi-annually set apart for such purpose by appropriation from the fund in the State Treasury known as the Resident Hunter's License Fund The Secretary of the board of game commissioners is hereby authorized if necessary to draw upon said fund in amount equal to the full amount set apart for this purpose in payment of claims presented under oath or that may be assessed under the provisions of this act All claims for damages incurred to become payable under the provisions of this act shall be presented in writing under oath to the secretary of the board of game commissioners at Harrisburg within a period of two weeks from the time such damage is alleged to have been incurred

Section 2 The Secretary as soon as possible after a claim of this kind has been received by him shall send at least two game protectors to interview the complainant and inspect the property reported as injured to collect such additional evidence as to them may appear necessary to a clear understanding of the case in question and to effect a settlement of the claim when possible

Section 3 In all cases where an agreement between such game protectors and the claimant can be obtained regarding the true value of damage sustained and the secretary is satisfied that such claim is reasonable and fair a voucher shall be drawn upon said fund for the amount named in such finding

In all cases where the game protectors and the claimants cannot agree upon the amount of damage sustained or the cause of such damage the secretary of the board of game commissioners shall call together a jury of not less than three disinterested persons one of whom shall be a sportsman one a farmer or a fruit grower as the case in question may indicate and the third a business man from any walk of life Such jury shall if they desire view the property injured and shall hear such evidence as may be deemed necessary to give a fair understanding of the claim made and the finding of a majority of the jury shall be binding insofar as the claim upon the fund in question is concerned

Section 4 For the purposes of this act the secretary of the board of game commissioners is empowered to administer oaths to both jurors and witnesses and such oath shall in all ways be binding and of like effect as oaths administered in any court of this Commonwealth

Section 5 All jurors and witnesses necessary to such proceedings shall receive the same pay for services as is paid to jurors and witnesses in the courts of quarter sessions The secretary of the game commission is authorized to draw his voucher upon the fund appropriated for this purpose for the amount named in any such award and all other expenses connected with such investigation

Section 6 The sum of fifteen thousand dollars is hereby specifically appropriated for two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and nineteen to be paid out of the receipts from the Resident Hunter's License Act and such other moneys as have accumulated and are now held in the State treasury as a fund separate and apart to be applied to the protection and propagation of game Claims for damages done shall be paid upon sufficient proof of damage and claim presented to the proper authority

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed wiht,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1138, entitled

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth to rebuild county bridges over eight hundred feet in length located on State Highways where such bridges have been heretofore destroyed by fire providing for the appointment of viewers and inspectors and for the payment of the costs of rebuilding such bridges and imposing certain charges upon counties

The first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, and tenth sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall rebuild all county bridges over eight hundred feet in length lying wholly within any one county and located on State Highway routes which have been heretofore destroyed by fire

Section 2 The county commissioner in any county in which such county bridge was located may apply by petition to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County setting forth fully in said petition the location of such bridge the time when a bridge was first erected in the same location the time when the bridge was destroyed by fire the character of the bridge so destroyed and the probable cost of rebuilding the same

Section 3 Thereupon it shall be the duty of the court to appoint three viewers one of whom shall be a civil engineer and not more than two of whom shall be residents of the county wherein such bridge is proposed to be built

Section 4 The viewers so appointed after having been duly qualified to faithfully perform their duties shall proceed to fix the location of the proposed bridge and make report at such time as the court may direct which report shall contain an accurate statement of the kind and character of the bridge destroyed which it is proposed to replace the length of time since the first bridge was built on the proposed location the length of the bridge together with the recommendation of the viewers as to the kind of bridge needed and the probable cost thereof It shall be the duty of the said viewers to inquire whether the accommodations of the traveling public in the locality demands the rebuilding of said bridge

Section 5 Due notice shall be given to the Attorney General of the time of filing the petition and application of viewers and it shall be his duty to appear for and defend the interests of the Commonwealth in all such proceedings

Section 6 Upon the filing of such report the county interested and the Commonwealth shall have the right to file exceptions thereto at any time within thirty days

Section 7 It shall be the duty of the court after full hearing by deposition or otherwise as the said court may direct to determine all questions stated in the petition or the exceptions thereto and to enter a final order thereupon from which order such county or the Commonwealth shall have the right of an appeal to the supreme court within thirty days

Section 8 In case the report of the viewers or a majority of them is in favor of the erection of the bridge and the same is confirmed by the court the court shall order and direct such rebuilding Thereupon it shall be the duty of the Board of Commissoners of Public Grounds and Buildings immediately to proceed and have prepared in conformity with the report of the viewers such plans and specifications of the proposed bridge as may be necessary and shall appoint a superintendent of construction and fix his salary which shall in no case exceed five per centum of the amount of the contract

Section 9 After advertising for bids in not less than three daily newspapers two of which shall be published in the county in which such bridge is located and the other in one newspaper published at the seat of the government for a period of three weeks the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings shall proceed to let the contract for the rebuilding of such bridge to the lowest and best bidder In case all bids are rejected the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings shall readvertise and let bids in the manner hereinbefore provided

Section 10 Every bridge so erected by the Commonwealth shall be inspected by three fit persons to be appointed by the court of common pleas of Dauphin County none of whom shall be residents of or property holders in the county wherein the bridge is located who shall make report to the court of the result of their inspection

The eleventh section was read as follows:

Section 11 When the report is made by the inspectors that such bridge has been erected according to the contract for the erection of the same the report shall be approved by the court If the persons so appointed shall not approve the same they shall report to the court what sum in their judgment ought to be deducted from the sum stipulated in such contract Thereupon the court shall grant a rule upon the builder or contractor to show cause against the said report at the time and place named in the rule

After the service and return of such rule it shall be lawful for the contractor to file a statement in the court of common pleas of Dauphin County upon the contract made by him with the Commonwealth and thereupon to proceed to trial in like manner as if in an action had been commenced by him upon such contract against the Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 11, page 4, line 24, by striking out the word "in" following "if."

An Act to provide for the licensing and regulation of public dance halls and ball rooms and for the regulation supervision of public dances and halls in cities of the first second and third classes

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That this act shall apply to all cities of the first second and third classes within this Commonwealth

Section 2 The term "public dance" or "public ball" as used in this act shall be taken to include any dance or ball conducted in connection with instruction in dancing for hire and any dance or ball to which admission may be had by the payment of a fee or by the purchase possession or presentation of a ticket or token or in connection with which a charge is made for caring for clothing or other property and any dance or ball to which the public generally may gain admission with or without the payment of a fee

The term "dance hall" or "ball room" as used in this act shall be taken to include any room place or space in which a public dance or public ball as herein defined shall be held and any room hall or academy in which classes in dancing are held and instruction in dancing is given for hire.

Section 3. From and after the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen no person, persons society club or corporation shall hold a public dance or public ball within the limits of any city of the first, second or third class within this Commonwealth without having first obtained a permit therefor from the mayor thereof provided however such permit shall not be required for dances held and conducted by regularly established instructors in dancing in connection with such instruction.

The fee for such permit which shall be paid at the time of the issuing thereof shall be one dollar for each public dance or ball.

Section 4. From and after the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen it shall be unlawful to hold or conduct any public dance or public ball or to hold or conduct classes in dancing or to give instructions in dancing for hire in any hall ball room or academy within the limits of any city of the first, second and third class within this Commonwealth unless the dance hall or ball room or academy in which the same may be held shall have been duly licensed for such purpose.

Application for such license shall be made by the proprietor of such dance hall or ball room or academy to the mayor who is hereby authorized to issue the same.

The fee payable for such license granted hereunder shall be as follows:

In the case of dance halls maintained and conducted in connection with regularly established instruction in dancing and exclusively used in such connection the annual license fee shall be ten dollars.

In the case of all other dance halls and ball rooms the annual license fee shall be fifteen dollars.

Each license granted hereunder shall expire on the first day of June of each year.

The fee payable for each license granted hereunder shall be for the whole or any portion of a calendar year and all moneys received by way of license fees hereunder shall be paid into the general fund of the city.

Every licensed public dance hall or ball room or academy shall post its license in a conspicuous place within the hall where the dance is held.

Section 5. It shall be the duty of the mayor to cause an investigation of all applications for public dance hall or ball room licenses to determine whether or not the dance hall ball room or academy sought to be licensed complies with the rules regulations ordinances and laws applicable thereto and in making sush investigation he shall when desired have the assistance of any department of the government of the city.

Section 6. No license for a public dance hall or ball room or academy shall be issued until it shall be ascertained that the place for which it is issued complies with and conforms to all laws ordinances health and fire regulations applicable thereto and is a safe and proper place for the purpose for which it shall be used properly ventilated and supplied with sufficient toilet conveniences.

Section 7. The license of any public dance hall or ball room or academy may be forfeited or revoked by the mayor for disorderly or immoral conduct on the premises or upon proof that the dance hall, ball room or academy was frequented by disorderly or immoral persons or for the violation of any of the rules, regulations, ordinances and laws governing or applying to public dance hall, ball rooms or academies or public dances. If at any time the license of a public dance hall, ball room or academy shall be forfeited or revoked at least three months shall elapse before another license or permit shall be granted for dancing on the same premises.

Section 8. All public dance hall or ball rooms or academies shall be kept at all times in a clean healthful and sanitary condition and all stairways and other passages and all rooms connected with public dance hall, ball room or academy shall be kept open and well lighted.

Section 9. All public dance halls, ball rooms and academies shall be subject to inspection by the police department of the city at all reasonable times and whenever they are open for dancing instruction in dancing or for any other purpose.

Any police officer shall have the power to cause the place, hall or room where any public dance or ball is given to be vacated whenever any provision of any low or ordinances with regard to public dances and public balls is being violated or whenever any indecent act shall be committed or when any disorder of a gross violent or vulgar character shall take place therein.

Section 10. It shall be unlawful after nine o'clock post meridian to permit any person to attend or take part in any public dance who has not reached the age of sixteen years.

An Act to amend sections one two and three of article five chapter two of an act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred twelve) entitled "An Act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of article five chapter two of an act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred twelve) entitled "An Act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" which reads as follows

"Section 1 The court of quarter sessions may with the concurrence of the grand jury and upon application in writing of two-thirds of the taxable inhabitants of any borough annul or alter the charter of such borough" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 The several courts of quarter sessions within this Commonwealth shall have power upon petition of two-thirds of the taxable inhabitants of any borough heretofore incorporated to decree the annulment of the charter of such borough The petition for the annulment shall set forth that the petitioners desire that the territory embraced within such borough shall become a township or shall revert to and become a part of the township from which is was taken

Section 2 That section two article five chapter two of said act which reads as follows

"Section 2 The application shall be signed by the petitioners within three months immediately preceding its presentation to the court Public notice of the intended application for such annulment or amendment shall be given in at least one newspaper of the county for a period of not less than thirty days immediately before the application shall be presented" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 That upon presentation of such application for annulment as aforesaid to the court it shall be filed with the clerk and notice thereof shall be given in at least one newspaper of the proper county for a period of not less than thirty (30) days immediately preceding the date of such hearing and during which time exceptions may be filed to such application by any person interested and at such hearing the court shall make a full investigation of the case and if it shall find that the conditions prescribed by law have been complied with and shall believe that it is expedient to grant the prayer of the applicants shall grant the same and make a decree accordingly and said application and decree shall be recorded in the recorder's office of the proper county

Section 3 That section three of article five chapter two of said act which reads as follows

"Section 3 The application shall be laid before the grand jury at the same term of court when presented if the same can be conveniently done and in no case later than the next subsequent term of the court. If the grand jury shall find that the conditions prescribed by this article have been complied with and shall believe it expedient to grant the prayer of the petitioners they shall certify the same to the court which certificate shall be entered of record No further proceedings shall be had until the succeeding term of the court at which term the judgment of the grand jury may be confirmed If the decree of the court shall be in conformity with the prayer of the petitioners the petition and decree shall be recorded in the recorder's office of the county at the expense of the applicants who shall pay all other expenses and costs in connection with said application" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 3 That upon the entry and recording of such decree the lands embraced within the limits of such borough whose charter is annulled shall thereupon become a township or if such petitioners elect such land shall revert to and become a part of the township from which it was taken and be under and subject to its government and control Provided however that should the petitioners elect to have said land revert to and become a part of the township from which it was taken any indebtedness of such borough shall be paid from the taxes assessed and collected from that portion of said township formerly included within the limits of such borough

All costs and expenses incident to the proceedings for the annulment of the charter as aforesaid shall be paid by the petitioners

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twelve) entitled "An Act providing a system of government for borough and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs is amended by adding to chapter six article sixteen the following sections

(d) ERECTING DYKES AND EMBANKMENTS ALONG CERTAIN WATER COURSES ON REQUEST OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Section 20 Upon the written request of the Board of Health the borough may erect dykes and embankments along any mill race or other unavailable water course if the same shall be necessary to prevent the water from overflowing the banks thereof and for such purpose may enter upon and condemn such property and materials as may be necessary to complete such work

Section 21 No ordinance for the erection of dykes and embankments under Section twenty hereof shall be passed until notice thereof has been given by publication of the proposed ordinance once a week for three consecutive weeks in one newspaper published in the county

Section 22 When the work of erecting such dykes and embankments has been completed if the borough cannot agree with the property owners as to the payment of the costs and expenses the borough may present its petition to the Court of Common Pleas setting forth the character of such improvements and that the damages costs and expenses incurred have not been paid and praying the court to appoint three freeholders as viewers to ascertain the damages costs and expenses resulting therefrom and to ratably assess the damages costs and expenses or so much thereof as the viewers may deem reasonable upon the property benefited and make report thereof to the court

Section 23 The court or any law judge thereof shall thereupon appoint three viewers from the county board of viewers and appoint a time not less than twenty nor more than thirty days thereafter when the viewers shall meet upon the line of the improvement and view the same

Section 24 The proceedings before such viewers for the allowance of damages for property taken injured or destroyed and for the assessment of benefits upon property benefited shall be as provided in chapter six article two of this act

Section 25 The final assessment against any property shall be a lien for the amount of such assessment dating from the time of the final confirmation of the report or the final decree of the court fixing such assessment if filed in the court within six months from the final assessment or confirmation

Section 26 Nothing contained in Section twenty of this Article or in the sections based thereon shall apply to any water course used by any borough or Water Company as a course of supply unless such borough or Water Company shall consent to such erection of dykes and embankments

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. After the roll has been called a number of gentlemen have been requesting to be recorded. If quiet is maintained this can be avoided and the gentlemen can be recorded when their names are first called.
Mr. WILLSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up from page 8 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 949, file folio 1897.

Agreeably to order,
The bill having been called up from postponed calendar by Mr. WILLSON,
The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 949, entitled

An Act to amend and to repeal certain sections of an act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and sixty-eight) entitled "An Act providing for the incorporation regulation and government of cities of the third class regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing, consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto"

On the question, recurring,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?
Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I wish to call your attention to the bill that is now under consideration. It is the bill repealing the nonpartisan election law for third-class cities. Do you want to pass this bill, and if so, why? A number of years ago the Clark Act was enacted into law in this State providing for the government of third-class cities. One of the features of that bill was the nonpartisan election law. It has been in service for a number of years and, we think, fairly successful. Now we have the proposition before us to repeal that law and to go back to partisan politics in our municipal affairs. We, as Republicans of this House, I think, should hesitate and consider very carefully before we repeal this law. Why should we Republicans tamper with this thing? Why do we need to shoulder any more responsibilities? Wry, gentlemen of this House, should a man in order to qualify for mayor or city councilman in third-class cities, be either a Republican or a Democrat or any other partisan in politics? The only qualification for a mayor or city councilman is the man's qualification for the office; his ability as an executive officer, as an administrative officer, or as a judicial officer, and it makes little difference to the man who votes whose desire is for good government, what his politics may be. We all believe that public officials that have to do with State-wide policies of government can best be selected on a parisan platform because there is a State-wide policy that is too big for any one candidate to bring before the people and have it considered by the people. But we can elect a mayor of a city if he is a good business man. Why not a councilman to fix your rate of taxes and spend your money? Why should he be considered along the line of partisanship? The nonpartisan law gives to the people of a locality the largest degree of home rule that any election law possibly could give. Why do you want to take away from us? In electing a mayor under this law it is absolutely impossible for a man to be elected unless he gets a majority, if you please, of all the votes cast for that office. If you are in favor of majority rule in this democracy, then we ought to stand by this law. We have first a process of elimination at the primary—the non-partisan primary—and we select a man to stand for that office at the election, and the two men getting the highest number of votes for mayor are the only names that go on the ballot. We eliminate all the rest. Then we have a second trial at the election in the Fall and we pick the best man of those two. Now, we are not going to say in this Legislature that our respective districts are incompetent to elect their public officers. When we give to the people the chance to give their honest expression at the election we have done our part and we have done all that any person can do. We have the best law that can be enacted for that if we put it up to the people to make their selection of the public officials; or if the majority of the people of that city cannot elect a good man with this law to office, then we don't deserve any better than we get. You cannot find any other source, no matter how much we search, that can select better men for public office than the people who vote for them. We must not lose sight of the fact that this is a government by a majority, and a majority of the people must rule whether we like it or not, and sometimes if we are not successful or are not on the successful side we don't like it, but the majority must rule in this democracy and we ought not to take away from them the chance to do that. We might just as well talk plainly. We don't want undesirable men elected to office. A great majority of us here don't want socialists to hold office in our respective districts. We don't want any man to hold office unless he is a patriotic, law-abiding citizen, and now we can prevent that under this law if we have a majority of the people in our respective cities that don't want that kind of men to hold office. If you repeal this law, then it is possible for a man to be elected to this high office of mayor or city councilman with one-fourth or one-fifth of the total number of votes cast, which has been done right in this Commonwealth in more than one city. There will be a candidate on the Republican ticket; one on the Democratic ticket; one on the Socialist ticket; one on the Citizens' Party ticket, and one on this kind of a progressive ticket or on that kind of a progressive ticket with two or three different kinds of Socialists and two or three different kinds of anarchists all running on a different ticket, and there may be a very undesirable man who gets less than one-fifth of the total number of votes cast who will be elected to this office. That thing has happened in this Commonwealth, but it cannot happen under this nonpartisan law unless a majority of the people in the district electing officers believe in that kind of thing. What is the matter with the non-partisan law in general in this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We hear of some people that are attacking it in third-class cities, as this bill does. We hear of people who are attacking it in second-class cities; we hear of some others that are attacking it on judicial nonpartisan law. Has it not worked? What is the matter with it? We have elected a number of judges of the Supreme and Superior Court and are they not good men? Where is the man that has the boldness to stand up and point out one of these men that should not have been elected. We have elected from the great city of Pittsburgh whom my friends on the other side think is a great city— there we have elected Honorable Robert S. Frazier to the Supreme Court, and he is a pretty good judge. We have elected Judge Walling, from Erie, Judge Simpson from this little town down here in the eastern part of the State; we have elected Judge Trexler, and Judge Kephart and some others. What is the matter with these men? Are not they just as good men as you elected under the present primary ballot and convention systems? Now, we talk about this law not being successful, but when we point to the men that have been elected under this law, no man dare raise his hand and say that it has been anything else but very successful.

Gentlemen, the big Senator who is visiting in this city today, in the public press just of today, talks a little bit about this matter. What does he say? This ought to appeal to a great many of the members of this House. Senator Penrose says in this public interview: "I am a firm believer in the non-partisan ballot as the means for electing judges and for municipal officers. I know that there are a number of Republicans and Democrats in Pennsylvania who don't agree with me, but my theory is that it is best for local government."—That is the proposition we have before us tonight, "local government.—"I would even extend it to boroughs, but I am not forcing my views," etc.

Gentlemen, the Governor of this Commonwealth has spoken in no uncertain terms regarding this matter. Every political party in this State almost, at the last general election, went on record as favoring the proposition to give the local communities the largest portion of self-government possible. Is this in line with the platforms and the announced purposes of these political parties and candidates?

Gentlemen, the third class cities of this Commonwealth do not want this bill repealed. If we look a little over this country, we find some very glaring examples of minority rule where men have been elected to high offices by very much less than a majority of the votes cast. I want to call attention to what I consider a very splendid article appearing in the Literary Digest regarding the recent election in the City of Chicago. You have heard a good bit about this election in Chicago. The man that was elected apparently did not have a very good reputation a few months ago. He was charged with not being patriotic, and that is one of the most serious charges that can be made against any man either in office or aspiring to office. He was charged with obstructing our progress in this great world war for humanity's sake. But notwithstanding all that, he came out for re-election and was elected, not by a majority of the votes cast for that high office in the City of Chicago but very much less than a majority. "A number of the great newspapers all over this country said some very unkind things about this man. They spoke of him bringing to the attention of the people of this country some of the things that he had said and done and if true, he should never have been elected to the office. "Big Bill's re-election has called down a shower of lively headlines such, for example, as the Kansas City Star's outcry: 'Poor old Chicago.' " The Louisville Courier Journal, 'Un-American wins;' and the New Haven, Connecticut, General Courier's phrase, 'Chicago's shame.' " Then coming on down to one of the great Philadelphia papers that spoke in similar terms about this man. But notwithstanding all those things, he was elected by a very small minority. "The German vote and Thompson's lungs could not have brought about his re-election had it not been for the antiquated undemocratic and un-American election system that prevails in Chicago."

The gist of all these great newspapers is that not the will of the majority was responsible for this man's election but the antiquated system under which he was elected was responsible, and that is the thing that we are asked to vote here tonight to go back to, this antiquated system where it is possible to elect men with small minorities instead of the majority of the votes that are cast.

I want to talk just a little more to Pittsburgh. Two years ago this proposition was up to repeal the non-partisan law for second class cities, and you men that were here two years ago remember the great storm of protest that came down from the west protesting to the members of this Legislature against the going back to this old, antiquated system. I hold in my hand a resolution of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, passed only a short time ago, regarding this matter. "Our present plan of city government, known as the Pittsburgh plan, was adopted as the result of the great uprising of citizens of Pittsburgh against the conditions prevailing under the old partisan plan of city government. In this movement the Chamber of Commerce took the lead, the non-partisan bill for second class cities was drafted by a committee of this chamber, the chamber actively advocates its passage and has sent its committee to Harrisburg to protect it against every bill which has since been introduced."

Gentlemen, I hold in my hands protests from a majority of all the third class cities in this Commonwealth against the repeal of this bill. I am not going to take your time to read them all, but I want to call your attention to the fact that Allentown, Altoona, Bradford, Butler, Coatesville, Connellsville, Corry, Erie, Franklin, McKeesport, Monongahela City, New Castle, Reading, Oil City, Wilkes-Barre and several others have passed resolutions protesting against the repeal of this law.

Gentlemen, I want to ask you in closing, if you are going to vote for this bill, why are you going to do it? Have you any reason? Do you think it is wise to depart from a rule that requires majorities to elect and go back to the old system that may be very dangerous to us at this time? Are you going to disregard the admonition of the political leaders of this State, of the Governor, who is the titular head of the Republican Party of this Commonwealth? Are you going to disregard the announced platforms of the parties at the last election in their advocacy, in a large measure, of home rule for local communities. Gentlemen, ask yourself these questions, and I do not believe that any of you can consistently answer these questions to your own satisfaction and in such a manner as will justify you in voting for this bill. I ask you, gentlemen, to vote against this bill, because we have got what we want and what we believe is the best proposition for third class cities. We have not heard any good argument for the repeal of this act, but we have had a number of the most distinguished representatives of the third class cities of this Commonwealth down here at this State Capitol, protesting, and protesting most emphatically, against the repeal of this law.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to give this House the expression which has been given to me by the City of Johnstown, which is a third class city in my own native county. They say that they have canvassed the city through the members of the Chamber of Commerce, and that the information gathered by more than six hundred of the members of the Chamber of Commerce is to the effect that they are unqualifiedly opposed to this measure being passed. This being the expression of the only third class city in my county, I want to place it before you in the way that they directed me to do, as being opposed to this measure.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I take it for granted that this measure that is now before the House means putting party loyalty to the test. I resent, however, the imputation that any man who opposes the passage of this bill is not strictly a loyal party man. It is true that political parties are essential to this government, and it is very true that the great political organization to which all but twenty-three of us here belong, is now in an aggressive position to wrest from the Democratic Party the power in this nation in the coming year. But, gentlemen, do you suppose that by taking away from the third class cities the one element that is progressive, the one element that is up-to-date, the one element that has been studied by municipal experts, the one factor that has marked progress in municial government—do you supose that by taking away the non-partisan feature of the third class city act, that you are going to promote the good of the Republican party in this state or nation? I say no, and I defy any man to say that he is a more faithful and more loyal and more aggressive Republican than I am. I would resent any claim that if I voted against this measure I was not strictly a party man. I want to say to you that you cannot afford to take a step backward. You cannot afford to set aside this feature, the best expression of the best geniuses who have worked out the great problem of municipal government in this Commonwealth. I know you will not take that step tonight. It woud be a step backward, and who wants to take a backward step? Let any man deny to me that it is distinctly a step backward. I am a man that once having taken a step forward, I either stay where I am or go on further — I never retreat. Now, gentlemen, this is not the time to meddle with the election laws. Why, it is futile for me to repeat that the Republican leaders cannot be put on record as being in favor of this bill. I defy any advocate of this bill to get up in this House to-night and say that Senator Penrose and Governor Sproul are in favor of this bill. If you can do that — I will not say that I will vote for the bill, because my people have almost unanimously asked me to vote against it—but it would cause me to waiver because I like to follow what I consider wise, judicious and aggressive leadership. Gentlemen, this is no time to repeal this law, and why? Has not my colleague from Lawrence County expressed to you what was expressed before the Committee on Municipal Corporations by at least two men who appeared there, when they said this: that it would be a calamity in their individual communities if this bill, if the non-partisan feature, were to be repealed, for the reason that they were impended—threatened with the election of a socialistic mayor from the city of Butler, which has just come in and which is really a fledgling among the third class cities. The non-partisan feature has been remarkably successful. We have elected men of the highest qualifications, without respect as to whether or not they were Republicans or Democrats, and the men who are the leaders of the Republican party in the city of Butler have given their expressions in favor of the continuance of the non-partisan feature. Now, my friends, we are going to face troublesome times in the next few years in both the social and political status of this country. We cannot afford to turn loose any element which will jeopardize safe and sound government in any of our third class cities. Can we afford to make it possible for a man who should not be at the head of the government of a third class city to rise to such power? I would like to see this bill defeated because I see no merit in it, because the leaders of the Republican party are not for it, because even those outside of the third class cities have expressed themselves as not being for it.

Mr. WILLSON. Mr. Speaker, in 1917 a similar measure was before this House and passed both Houses of the General Assembly, but was vetoed by Governor Brumbaugh. It was believed that a nonpartisan election for officers of third class cities would result in the selection of better men, and to some extent perhaps this has proven true under the Act of 1913. But whatever good has followed the enactment of this law has been due to that feature of the act under which municipal officers are elected for the whole city instead of by wards. Certainly we are all satisfied from our experience that non-partisanship has not been eliminated from municipal elections. Factionalism is as rampant as before. In practice we have found members of the minority party combined with the disgruntled elements of the dominant party, and by this means have placed in office men who never could have been elected except under the spur of party revenge. Take my own city for example. I may say to you without hesitation that since the policy of ward representation on the school board we have been able to place in office a higher representation than ever before. But in the election of the school board we still retain the partisan feature. Under our school board system, serving without pay, we have been able to place better men in office than when they received a salary of two thousand dollars. Why should we permit a system to continue under which minority factions are able to rule the politics of our city? The nonpartisan law has failed to attract as candidates the business men and public-spirited citizens, because they do not wish to get mixed up in partisan entanglements. I believe in party responsibility, and feel that it will result in the selection of better men in our city council, as it has resulted in the selection of better men on our sschool board. Under our direction, if good men are selected they will get the support of the good men of the opposing party. This check, in my mind, is better in getting good results than our present law. Then again why should a citizen as he goes to the polls be encumbered by more than one ballot—one for the county officers, another for the non-partisan judiciary, and still another for the municipal election? Voting should be made easy, and not complex, and one ballot should be sufficient. What good reasons can you give for electing municipal officers by a different method than you elect county, State, and national officers? The principle we stand for should assume prominence rather than the individual. It is important, of course, that we select good men for public offices, but it is even more important that high and proper principles are carried out. We believe in our political party as much as we believed in our church, as it is based upon and represents our ideal. Why should we be ashamed of our political party any more than we are ashamed of our church Bad men will get into the church, and it is the same with political parties. It is therefore evident that men who fail to measure up to our ideals will be benefited under the nonpartisan law in every third class city. I hope that every member will vote for this bill and repeal the non-partisan law.

Mr. ROBERT E. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to debate this question further, but wish to correct the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Willson) in one statement. Two years ago no such bill as this, no bill providing for the repeal of this non-partisan law, was introduced in either branch of this Legislature. It is true a repealer was tacked on the third class city bill. That repealer or rider was killed in this House and never reached the Governor.

Mr. WILLSON. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to say in answer to the statement that we do not want socialistic candidates for our offices, that in 1913 when this bill was first passed, in the city of Williamsport we had a socialistic councilman elected the first time. At the present we have a socialistic controller and one socialistic councilman, and I am told that Williamsport elected a mayor who was not a naturalized citizen of the United States, and had to have him taken into court to get him out of office.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I believe everybody in this House would be disappointed, as well as everybody in the State of Pennsylvania, if one who served in this House since 1913 and has been recognized as a partisan so far as the Clark Act is concerned, if I did not say something in favor of the repeal of the non-partisan feature. I have the honor to represent a third class city which is not included in the list of third class cities opposed to this repealer. I recognize that the gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. Robert L. Wallace) has read a considerable number of references to third class cities; I accept the references of the gentelman from Cambria(Mr. William Davis): but I believe that a large number of the other references will be found to have been resolutions passed by councils alone. Therefore the sentiment of the people of the third class cities is not expressed. I do not believe that any better government can be obtained under the non-partisan features of the municipal elections, and good men are elected under all forms of government. I do, however, believe that the partisan ballot in third class cities will be a benefit and not feature as a detriment to the advancement of the cities. The other features of the Clark Act are just as important to the procedures of these governments as the non-partisan features. I have never believed that any man could be a non-partisan in politics. I don't believe the city governments of third class cities have ever demonstrated that fact. In the city that I represent we have never had a Democrat serving since we have had a non-partisan election. They have all been Republicans. We used to give the Democrats an office occasionally before we had a non-partisan election, but it has not benefited our personnel one bit. My friends, there is something else in this bill that I am going to ask you to vote for other than the non-partisan feature. There is a provision in this act that is as follows: "There shall be elected at the municipal election in the year 1919 and every four years thereafter a City Treasurer who shall hold office for a term of four years from the first Monday of January next succeeding his election." That is a feature to correct the present or to amend it wherein the city councils of the third class cities elect such an important officer as the city treasurer, the biggest paying office in the city and at the mercy of five men. The people of the city having nothing at all to say in regard to the election of a city treasurer. That feature of this bill, my friends, ought to cause you to vote for it even though you do have some doubt in your mind as to the non-partisan feature of it. The feature of this bill connected with the election of a city treasurer, the partisan feature, should give to the cities of the third class a better system of electing their municipal officers. I hope this House will vote for this bill, notwithstanding the Pennsylvania Senior senator's supposed statement in today's papers that he is opposed to the partisan law or rather favors non-partisan elections in third class cities or in any other city. Treat it as a question as you would treat anything else of your own: give the cities of the third class a partisan election and the election of a city treasurer and I am sure that you will do some good for the third class cities.

Mr. WILLERT. Mr. Speaker, I don't care to take your time, but coming from one of the third-class cities of this Commonwealth and one of the largest ones, and after having canvassed our district thoroughly, I take issue with my good friend from Delaware, Mr. Ramsey, and we don't want the repeal of the non-partisan act. We are well satisfied. We have better men than we have ever had before and our city treasurers are good men. We have no complaint to make and we hope that you will not vote for the repeal of this act.

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, I represent a county containing two third-class cities and our people of those cities are entirely satisfied with this act, with the present law, and don't want it repealed. We say this particularly to those representatives who come from districts that do not have third-class cities. We ask you not to oppose this law, but to leave the present law as it is.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Willert.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Willert, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLERT. Mr. Speaker, yes, ,sir.

Mr. HARER. How did you arrive at your opinion in regard to the statement that you have just made concerning your district?

Mr. WILLERT. By canvassing the Boards of Trade, the Chambers of Commerce, as well as labor organizations, who have endorsed the present non-partisan act.

Mr. HARER. How many people does that represent?

Mr. WILLERT. At least 75,000 people.

Mr. HARER. These are men that voted on this proposition?

Mr. WILLERT. Yes, sir.

Mr. HARER. Did you take a personal inventory of this?

Mr. WILLERT. I did.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I want to call attention to one fact. It is in regard to the election of the treasurer, but that is no reason why any man should vote for the whole bill as drafted. It is a very easy matter to introduce to-morrow a bill providing for the election of a treasurer, and any man that thinks that is the best thing to do he can do that and then vote for it squarely on the issue and not camouflage it under the non-partisan proposition. Personally I have no objections to the election of treasurers as other officers are now elected, but I don't think we ought to be led to believe that we are to support the non-partisan repealer in order to elect this man. Make it a separate bill.

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. DUNN asked and received unanimous consent to offer a motion which was twice read as follows:

Moved by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, seconded by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Glass, that the vote by which House Bill No. 850, file folio 2493, entitled

An Act to amend sections three and five of an act approved the twentieth day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and sixty-six), entitled "An Act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities, and all county or other public employes, if any, paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof, and out of the treasury of said cities; and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" as amended, giving credit to employes of such cities for time in the service of the Commonwealth; fixing the contributions of such employes; and permitting employes leaving the employ of the city to continue as contributors in order to become beneficiaries of said fund.

was defeated on third reading, Tuesday April 8, be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. HELT asked and received unanimous consent to offer a motion which was twice read as follows:

Moved by the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Helt, seconded by the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Woner, that the vote by which House Bill No. 1157, file folio 2649, entitled

An Act relating to county officers in counties having a population of more than seventy thousand and less than one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and providing for their salaries and the compensation of deputies and clerks in the respective county offices requiring the payment into the respective county treasury of the fees of county officers and providing penalties for violations of this act on page 14 of tonight's calendar, and House Bill No. 685, file folio 2855, entitled

An Act providing that the county treasurers of all counties whose population does not exceed one hundred and fifty thousand shall be paid a salary and fixing the same which shall be in lieu of all commissions and fees and in full compensation of their services on page 18 of today's calendar were recommitted be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, what is the question?

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands these two bills are on the second reading calendar today. In the absence of the sponsors of the bills they were recommitted. The sponsors for the bills now desire to have the bills placed back on the calendar.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, these bills refer to salaries of certain county officials. The two bills are in conflict in their provisions; in other words, they create an inequality in certain salaries. I move to have them recommitted so that this difference could be reconciled. It is the proper method of procedure, and I trust that the present motion will be voted down. It is the only way to expedite this matter, as I see it. It is entirely a proper method to have the bills referred back to committee.

Mr. HELT. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I agree with the gentleman from Elk (Mr. Flynn) that that is the proper method of procedure to send bills back into committee for the purpose of amendment, but there is another matter that is usually followed out in the same procedure, and that is that the sponsors of the bills are at least notified of the intention when a motion to recommit bills is to be made. Out of fairness to the sponsors of the bills and the committee which considered those bills, I want to state that these bills were reported out after all the members of the House had an opportunity to appear before those committees and have them amended; in fact, the bill that I am the sponsor of and ask your consideration of at this time, House Bill No. 685, was in the committee since February 28, and we met, as far as possible, the requests of those who opposed the measure and we amended it so as to eliminate, as far as possible, the opposition that showed against the bill, and in the committee the vote was taken and there was a majority there shown to report the bill out on the floor of the House for the action of this body. Out of courtesy to this committee and out of courtesy to the sponsor of this bill, I respectfully ask your favorable consideration of the motion.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I acknowledge that I do not understand all the procedure of this House. It seems to me very strange, however, when I was sitting in my seat here this evening, that somebody who must have known that I was a member of this House at least should have put in a motion linking up my bill with another bill and referring it back to the Committee on Counties and Townships. Now, Mr. Speaker, it is a question of courtesy with me. My colleague, the gentleman from Elk (Mr. Flynn) could have at least consulted me, but he did not see fit to do so. I am not particularly objecting to the disposition of this bill of mine, but I see no reason why it should have been recommitted in connection with the other bill. The inconsistencies or incompatibilities in those bills could easily have been adjusted. I am not adverse to sending it back to the Committee on Counties and Townships if it be for an honorable and good purpose, but it looks to me like a clandestine method.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I assure the gentleman that there was no intention of discourtesy on my part in sending these two bills back to committee. But here is a glaring inconsistency, a situation in which one bill provides a certain schedule of salaries and another bill, for the same class of officials, provides another schedule of salaries. I want to ask the gentleman who sponsored these bills, how are they going to reconcile that difference? We cannot pass both bills. You know that and we all know it. There is no intention of beating about the bush or doing anything under cover here. The motion was made here in an open meeting of this House. These gentlemen would have a notice of this hearing that is to be held to reconcile this difference, and to my way of thinking it is the only way of meeting the situation. We cannot pass both bills. Now then, what can be done? Refer them back to committee, as has been done here tonight, and have a hearing on this matter and try to adjust these salaries so that they will be equalized, or the provisions of one bill can be incorporated in the other. It is the only thing to do.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I would not for one moment question the statement of any member of this House, but I wish to state that I know a little bit about the history of this bill before it came on the floor, and the purpose to recommit is being camouflaged by the gentlemen who supported that motion. I was the Chairman of the subcommittee by which the bill of Mr. Helt was considered, the Judiciary Local Committee, and the gentleman from Bedford (Mr. Edgar R. Smith), who supported the motion to recommit this bill, was the only man in committee who objected to it. As chairman of that committee, in common with the other members of that committee, we got together and amended the bill to comply with Mr. Smith's requests and objections as nearly as we could, and when the bill was finally brought before the committee, as amended, it was voted out of that committee. Mr. Smith was present after the amendments were made, which practically eliminated the objections he offered, but he still objected, giving no reason for his objections.

It was after some opposition that the bill was voted out —reported to the House. I believe in professional courtesy in the House of Representatives as well as any place else. I am not the sponsor of either of these bills, nor am I especially interested in them, but it was after a great deal of work that these bills were amended and re-amended to meet all objections and then reported out by the committee by the majority of those present, and it is only fair to sponsors of these bills and to the members of this House that they be permitted to come before the House for a vote. The bill of the gentlemen from Butler county was reported from another committee, and while there may be some confliction, I think it covers a broader field than that from the gentleman from Northumberland county. This proposition can be worked out by amendments on second reading, which is a very easy way to have it done. Under the circumstances neither of these gentlemen would have called their bills up for third reading. They could have gotten together and clarified the situation. Either gentleman would have agreed to defer calling up his bill until an agreement could have been reached. That is the proper way to do it. Knowing the history of the bills as I do, I am sorry to question the statement or the motive of any member of this House, but I must say that I cannot agree to the proposition of recommitting these bills to the committee. The purpose for so doing is being camouflaged, and I ask the members of the House to vote in favor of the motion to reconsider the motion that recomitted these bills to the committee, without the consent or knowledge of or even consultation with the sponsor of either bill. I ask the members of this House to support this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. These bills will be placed back upon the second reading calendar.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 21, 1919.

Whereas, President Woodrow Wilson has returned to Paris to attend the Peace Conference for the purpose of drafting terms of peace effecting the settlement of various questions arising out of the World War; and

Whereas, the President has expressed a desire to be the spokesman of the whole American People at the Peace Conference; and

Whereas, Italy has fought with heroism and great sacrifice since its entrance into the war, and has done its share in bringing about the great victory of the Allies; and

Whereas, Italy is making claims at the Peace Conference for restoration of certain lands and territory formerly belonging to it, and for lands and territory necessary for its economic needs, and for its security and preservation; and

Whereas, The citizens of Italian birth in Pennsylvania feel that in justice to Italy for her numerous sacrifices in the Great War, and by virtue of the will expressed by the people who inhabit said territories, the Provinces of Venetia, Julia, Fiume and Dalmatia, should be united to Italy; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the representatives of the people of the United States at the Peace Conference be requested to exercise their influence to bring about just consideration of the claims of the Italian government for the restoration of its lands and territories in order that Italy may be secured from future aggression and have a safe place on the Adriatic to prevent future hostilities, and have her national security and preservation; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly attested with the seal of the State, and signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, be forwarded to the President of the United States, and to the representatives of the United States at the Peace Conference.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

ADJOURNMENT.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare an adjournment until to-morrow morning at 10.30 o'clock.

Whereupon (at 11.58 o'clock P. M.) the House adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10.30 o'clock.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1919 — 123rd of the General Assembly

Vol. 5. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 22, 1919. No. 37.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, April 22, 1919.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Clarence J. Buckman) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, the nation-wide campaign for the Victory Loan reminds us once again of the clean-cut and unsurpassable work done by the fighting men of America on the sacred soil of France. We are keenly proud of the distinguished part played by the fighters of Pennsylvania in the great world war. In grateful appreciation of the speedy victory made possible by American arms help us to do our part in buying Victory Bonds to restore our great nation to a normal financial status, preparatory to the greatest era of prosperity in the history of the world. These favors we ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BARR, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

The PRESIDENT. Senate Bill No. 430 (House Bill No. 476), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section eight clause (b) of "the Wills act of one thousand nine hundred and seventeen" approved June seventh one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and three) by giving to any mother or adopted mother the right to appoint a testamentary guardian for her minor child when the father or adopting father of such child has forfeited his right to appoint a testamentary guardian under clause (c) of said section and when the said mother or adopting mother has left an estate real or personal to such child the said amendment to apply to the wills of all persons dying on or after the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and seventeen has not been received from the printer and will go over in its order.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT SENATE BILL NO. 448 (HOUSE BILL NO. 286.)

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 448 (House Bill No. 286), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand six hundred and eight and section two thousand and sixteen of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred end eleven (Pamphlet laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenues to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I call for the yeas and nays.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I would like to hear some one explain the bill.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I would like to state that that is my only reason for asking for a recommitment, no one has explained the bill.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, this bill, it seems to me, has been before this body quite long enough to determine whether in this Senate there is enough sentiment to place on the statute books a bill, about which, in my opinion, there should have been no dissension. Our soldiers are coming home; 72,000 have been left in France forever and they will never come back to America. The men today who can forget the little ones who lie buried fifty fathoms deep underneath the hulk of the Lusitania, who has no reverence for the dead and their devotion, no pity for bereaved and the broken, no prayer for the dying and their anguish; the man who can forget heroic Belgium, overrun but not conquered, of epic France and our noble dead who lie buried there, he who can forget the desolated cities and desecrated shrines, he who can forget the sorrow and sacrifice in freedom's Gethsemane, that man is a hun at heart, for the crimes that only a hun can commit, only a hun can forget. The time has come, for a show down, whether or not we are to perpetuate the language that belongs to a people who are the brutalized hell-hounds of all civilization. Mr. President, that is the reason that I do not want this bill sent to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, this is the same bill on which I spoke to the Senate two weeks ago and which was at that time by unanimous consent—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair calls the attention of the Senate to the fact that the merits of this bill cannot properly be discussed on this motion to recommit.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I just want to say what the bill is. This is the same bill on which I spoke two weeks ago and which was then recommitted to the Committee on Education by a unanimous vote of this body, for the purpose of amendment. The bill is back on the calendar in unamended form. The Bolard Bill, which is a bill which bears on the same subject, not exactly in the same form, was last night recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of a hearing. It is the desire that this bill should also be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the present.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, if he is willing to be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I want to say to Senator Barr, that I have not the least bit of interest to hide this bill in any way and I want to be with the rest of the members of the Senate on this bill. I think pending the treaty it would not do any harm to let it go to the committee for the time being.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, answering the Senator from Philadelphia, I beg to say that the Senator who preceded me had a fair and honest hearing on this bill before the Committee on Education, and as I understand parliamentary practice it is a distinct discourtesy to take it out of the hands of the Committee on Education, where this bill properly belongs, and then to even suggest that it go back to the Judiciary General Committee. Mr. President, I think if the Senator from Philadelphia reflects for one moment he will see the justice of my claim, that this business should be decided this morning on the floor and that it should be called for third reading and final passage.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I withdraw the motion to recommit. I have not enough interest in this bill to divide the Senate today.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. President, the bill has been fully explained to my satisfaction and I withdraw my second to the motion to recommit.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, withdraw his call for the yeas and nays?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I withdraw it with the understanding that this bill shall come up for third reading reading and final passage.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 448 (House Bill No. 286), entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand six hundred and eight and section two thousand and sixteen of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine), entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenues to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith."

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, as I have already stated, this is the same bill that I spoke on two weeks ago and it was then recommitted to the Committee on Education for the purpose of amendment. The bill is back on the calendar in unamended form and I reiterate what I said two weeks ago, that it would be manifestly unfair and improper to pass the bill in this form. It may be admitted or perhaps well to doubt that the bill, as now constituted, could be properly amended. This is an amendment to the School Code, and to amend it, as I suggested two weeks ago, might perhaps be difficult, at least it could not be done also without an amendment to the title of the bill; but certainly I submit that the bill in this form should not pass. If legislation upon this subject is to be enacted it should come before us in the shape of a general bill covering the subject for the whole state. The effect of this bill is precisely the same as if you were to pass a law prohibiting the teaching of German in the city of Harrisburg and permitting it in all the other cities and school districts of the State, and I can see that if this subject is to be legislated on it ought not to come before us in this form, but in the shape of a general bill covering this subject for the whole State and for everybody. On the other hand, at this time, when yesterday we started the drive for the Victory Loan, and when the very people to whom you are here giving a slap, have taken off their coats and rolled up their sleeves and are working, men and women and children alike, all over the State, and for you to pass this bill is a manifest injustice and an unwise act on the part of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, for the benefit of the members of the Senate, I preface my remarks, owing to the statements of Senator Barr, by saying that I do not believe he really meant that a man who uses his good judgment in the disposition of a bill, such as this, would be a Hun at heart. I do not believe that he meant that, because we are here to use our best judgment and to do what we think, in the light of man and in the light of God and with fairness, what is right to our fellowman. I have no connections with Germany, I have no ancestor that is connected with Germany. My people were, all the time back that I can remember, neither Germans nor had German ancestors, so that I do not believe that I should be charged with being a Hun. I do believe, however, that in the consideration of this bill, we should play fair. The people who speak German speak German because of the fact—and through no fault of theirs—that they may have German ancestors. We have heard so much, and I believe it is true, that we are not fighting the German language, we are fighting that kingdom or republic that those Germans now remaining in Germany are trying to re-establish. What we fought was the Hun, who was ruled and regulated by the Kaiser, who no longer is in power, and I feel that all the people in the world at this time are trying to re-establish the world along the lines where a man can be kindhearted to his fellowmen and when it is all said and done a man, made after the image of the Almighty, is a man wherever he lives, be it in Germany, America, or be it in Liberia. I know no country but America. I know no cause but that which is advocated in this great and glorious country of ours, and my teaching has been that I, of foreign extraction, whose people came to this country, have had the privilege and the right of those who came over in the Mayflower, to grow with you all, and I have had the benefits of the glories of this great country, and why? Because we here are living man to man trying to help our fellowman and live on the broad principle of humanity. We are not fighting the German language, and if I understand the theory of this American government of ours and the reason that we went in to the war, we went into the war to make a universal mankind of all people in all climes, made after the image of the Almighty, and why at this time, when all the world, in all sections and parts, is trying to establish this universal freedom of all people, why should we here start to dig up something that we have no right to dig up. There is unrest in this country; there is unrest among the clans and we have to show to those people that in our principles, in that which we proclaim, that we are trying to deal fairly, and for the wrongs that some of their forefathers may have permitted we are willing and anxious to extend our right hand of friendship and say: "You too can come along in our midst, and the language that your forefathers taught you, we, under our form of government, under our spirit of right and justice, will take you along and in that now disregarded and disrespected country, known as Germany, although you live there, we stretch out our hand to you and try to make you what we Americans think we are, the greatest and grandest and most glorious people on the face of the earth." Why at this time dig up turmoil and trouble, when all the world is seeking for peace and happiness? It is a small thing, it means nothing. Why should we in this State, particularly the Keystone State, dig up turmoil and trouble, dissatisfaction and Bolshevism, if you will, at this time. I say it would be a mistake for us to mix in particularly now. Let us see what President Wilson and his Peace committee do, see what their situation is, what their attitude towards the German people, and when that conference in Paris is over we can well afford to follow in their footsteps, and I think if we do we will follow some of the thoughts and ideas I have in my mind.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, internationalism ought not to be any part of the American's creed. I thoroughly agree with what my friend, the Senator from Philadelphia, has said, that America ought to welcome at its front door immigrants from every country on the face of the earth, but above all things else we ought to insist that everybody who accepts our hospitality should become Americans in thought, in word, in deed, and in speech. I would welcome the day when the English language, or the American language only should be permitted to be spoken in this country. There is nothing else for us to do if we expect to preserve these institutions which make our country so desirable from the standpoint of oppressed people, who come to us from the other shores. If we want to preserve these institutions and make this country of ours a good place for them to come to we must insist that there shall be permitted to exist in this country nothing else but pure undiluted American language, American institutions and American ideals. These German people whom the Senator from Lehigh refers to as buckling into this Victory Loan at this time are not doing that, Mr. President, because they are Germans, or because of their love for their German ancestry, or their reverence for their German institutions, but they are doing this because they are Americans. That is what is leading them into the fight, not from any desire to excuse the hideous wrongs that their cousins have perpetrated upon us, but they are doing this because they are ashamed of that and want to make reparation for those wrongs, because they are Americans and are glad to forget their ancestors. This bill simply provides for the teaching of the American language in our schools to the exclusion of the German. That is its practical effect. There ought not to be any question about every Senator in this room voting for a bill of this kind. Let us get away from this talk that we were not fighting the German language or German people. We were fighting everything that was German, every German institution, not only the Huns, but his most effective weapon, his language. What we can do to put down this German language in our schools among our young people, in the most formative and impressionable state of their lives, ought to be done now in voting for this bill.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I am heartily in favor of wiping out all the teaching of the German language from the public schools, and have been for the past two years. In the community in which I live there was a German teacher who used the expression just after the outbreak of the war, when all the atrocities of the Hun were well known to the world, that if the American boy had been over there at the outbreak of the war that we would have done all the things, and more, than the Germans did in their invasion of Belgium. I repudiate that kind of language being used by a German teacher, and that sentiment being shown in the public schools that we are sustaining in this State. I do not agree with my distinguished friend from Philadelphia. That it makes us any less willing to welcome all classes by driving out the German language. Let us spend our money for the teaching of the American language and let us make every person who cares to come to our shores one hundred per cent American by teaching him the American language.

I hope that this bill will have the unanimous vote of this Senate, because I believe that the boys who are coming home from the other side deserve at our hands the very best that we can give to them and I believe that we should retaliate anything that savors of the Hun or German in order to show our appreciation of the American boy who has given the best service of his life to us in order that we might enjoy some of the blessings of home and I sincerely hope that there will be no further postponement of this bill, because it has had every opportunity for discussion on the floor of this Senate, and I hope we will dispose of it at this time.

Mr. SCHANTZ. If the argument is to prevail that we are to teach and speak only English as the American language, then why pick out German and forbid the teaching of that? Then why not pass a bill prohibiting the teaching of French and Greek and Latin and every other language, if there is to be hereafter only one language taught and spoken, namely, English, as the American language. I say that argument is absolutely unfair, and Mr. President, I want to say now that I hurl back with vindictive defiance any statement that opposition to this bill means a Hun. During this period of the war in Lehigh County I was chairman of the Council of National Defense and I worked from early morning until late at night in every town of my county. My own county in every drive went over the top. It raised in the four campaigns heretofore $17,933,550, in the different Liberty loan campaigns. In not one of them did we fail to go over the top and we will go over the top in our apportionment of five and a half million dollars this time. It is not that these people are unpatriotic, but they don't like any discrimination of this nature. The bill, as has been said, does not mean much. German is not taught in any of our schools except in the high schools as a college preparatory work. There is not a school in my part of the State, not only in my county but in the counties surrounding me—I can't make this statement for the State at large—but I do make it for my part of the State—there is not a public school in which German is taught in any form except as a language, the same as French or Greek or Latin, or any other language, except as a college preparatory or college work. The only place this would affect in my county, as I stated before, is the Allentown High School. It does not mean much, but it is the principle involved. Two weeks ago in a hearing before the Committee on Appropriations on a bill establishing military training in our public schools, I asked one of the speakers, "Do you think there ought to be embodied in the bill a provision requiring instruction to be in the English language?" He said, "No, I have absolute confidence in the patriotism and the wisdom of the people into whose hands the regulation of this subject is entrusted in this bill," and so I say, I have absolute confidence in the people who now have charge of the management of our public schools and the normal schools, who, under the law, as it stands today, have absolute control of this subject, that they are doing the right thing which is patriotic and American and in accordance with what their respective communities provide. The law is now that the curriculum shall be mapped out by the State Superintendent, by the trustees and managers of State Normal Schools and our County Superintendents and school boards, and I have absolute confidence in them that [illegible] will treat this subject in a patriotic and in a proper way. There is no patriotism involved. The charge that those opposed to the bill are unpatriotic is most unfair and uncalled for.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I think that I am entitled to explain to the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, that my quotation was that "The man who can forget the sorrows and sacrifices in freedom's Gethsemane, that man is a hun at heart, for the crimes that only a hun can commit, only a hun can forget" and I would say to the Senator from Lehigh that no man in the Senate has a higher regard for him than I have and I would be very sorry indeed to have a wrong impression conveyed from any statement. I would say to him that the reason we do not cut out Latin and Greek from our schools, is that they are dead languages of what were civilized nations and the reason we will continue to teach French is because France is a civilized nation, while Germany was barbarous and cruel from the start of the war to the finish. This is why we want to do without it, and take it out of our public and Normal Schools.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 22, 1919.

Whereas, The Department of War of the United States Government has issued an order requesting the County Commissioners of Allegheny County to elevate certain bridges over the Allegheny River in the city of Pittsburgh, and

Whereas, The city of Pittsburgh has lately, at a large expense to the city and to the abutting property owners, graded and raised from one to three and a half feet the grades of Fifth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Federal, Duquesne Way, Penn Avenue and other streets to conform to the present grade of the existing bridge, and

Whereas, The enforcement of the order of the Department of War would entail a cost and loss estimated at a sum not less than fifty millions of dollars, and

Whereas, Public improvements in said county have been at a standstill for the last two years in order that every energy might be directed toward bringing the war to a successful conclusion, and

Whereas, Further delay in making necessary public improvements will cause an irreparable set-back to the progress of Allegheny County, and

Whereas, Said bridges do not at present interfere with traffic on said river and boats can be built small enough and of sufficient water to handle all traffic on said river and which can safely pass beneath said bridges; therefor,

Resolved (If the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania does hereby petition the Government of the United States and the Secretary of War to reconsider the order heretofore made relative to the elevation of bridgs in the city of Pittsburgh and to take such action as may be just in the premises tending to rescind this order or to mollify the same in such manner as to prevent the saddling of this enormous cost on the County of Allegheny and its citizens,

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Commonwealth is hereby directed to forward copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, to the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States and to the Secretary of War for the United States.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE CONCURS IN RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO THE CLAIMS OF ITALY BEFORE PEACE CONFERENCE.

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, April 21, 1919.

Whereas, President Woodrow Wilson has returned to Paris to attend the Peace Conference for the purpose of drafting terms of peace affecting the settlement of various questions arising out of the World War; and

Whereas, The President has expressed a desire to be the spokesman of the whole American people at the Peace Conference; and

Whereas, Italy has fought with heroism and great sacrifice since its entrance in the war, and has done its share in bringing about the great victory of the Allies: and

Whereas, Italy is making claims at the Peace Conference for restoration of certain lands and territories formerly belonging to it, and for lands and territory necessary for its economic needs and for its security and preservation; and

Whereas, The citizens of Italian birth in Pennsylvania feel that in justice to Italy for her numerous sacrifices in the Great War, and by virtue of the will expressed by the people who inhabit said territories, the Provinces of Venetia, Julia, Fiume, and Dalmatia, should be united to Italy, therefore be it

Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur), That the representatives of the people of the United States at the Peace Conference be requsted to exercise their influence to bring about just considerations of the claimss of the Italian Government for the restoration of its lands and territories in order that Italy may be secured from future aggression and have a safe place on the Adriatic to prevent future hostilities, and have her national security and preservation; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly attested with the seal of the State, and signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, be forwarded to the President of the United States, and to the representatives of the United States at the Peace Conference

HOUSE CONCURS IN RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL NO. 141.

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, April 21, 1919.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, April 22, 1919.

The House met at 10:30 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O God, Thou never-failing source of grace and light and truth, we lay before Thy throne this morning our humble petition in behalf of the cities of this State and of all of the cities of this great nation. The foes of popular government have pointed to it and have shown that it is indeed a source of evil, and even the friends of popular government see in it many weaknesses. Here is gathered all that is highest and lowest, all that is noblest and vilest, all that is richest and poorest, and undoubtedly the destiny of the nation will be governed very largely by the destiny of the cities. Here, too, we know there is gathered the flotsam and jetsam of the communities, for the individual is lost in the mass, and sin and vice can prey unobstructed and unseen. We beseech, therefore, that Thou will give unto those who have the interest of the city at heart, the spirit that will bravely contend for that which will lift up, so that vice and squalor may be blotted out and that every effort may be made to induce those who are poor but honest, to be clean, so that the slum life may not lead to slum habits and that they may indeed be a part of the community that we may be proud of. Grant that there may be no spirit of antagonism between the country and the city, for the city needs the products of the country and the country needs the fruits of the mills and industries. Thus may all men help to build up a healthy community, that the nation may be safeguarded against all evil. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO ELEVATION OF BRIDGES OVER ALLEGHENY RIVER.

Mr. MARCUS asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following resolution, which was twice read considered and agreed to:

April 22, 1919.

In the House of Representatives,

Whereas, The Department of War of the United States Government has issued an order requesting the County Commissioners of Allegheny County to elevate certain bridges over the Allegheny River in the city of Pittsburgh, and

Whereas, The city of Pittsburgh has lately, at a large expense to the city and to the abutting property owners, graded and raised from one to three and a half feet the grades of Fifth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Federal, Duquesne Way, Penn Avenue and other streets to conform to the present grade of the existing bridge, and

Whereas, The enforcement of the order of the Department of War would entail a cost and loss estimated at a sum not less than fifty millions of dollars, and

Whereas, Public improvements in said county have been at a standstill for the last two years in order that every energy might be directed toward bringing the war to a successful conclusion, and

Whereas, Further delay in making necessary public improvements will cause an irreparable set-back to the progress of Allegheny County, and

Whereas, Said bridges do not at present interfere with traffic on said river and boats can be built small enough and of sufficient power to handle all traffic on said river and which can safely pass beneath said bridges; therefore,

Resolved (If the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania does hereby petition the Government of the United States and the Secretary of War to reconsider the order heretofore made relative to the elevation of bridges in the city of Pittsburgh and to take such action as may be just in the premises tending to rescind this order or to mollify the same in such manner as to prevent the saddling of this enormous cost on the county of Allegheny and its citizens.

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Commonwealth is hereby directed to forward copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, to the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States and to the Secretary of War for the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The bills on final passage recalled for the Governor, House Bills Nos. 40 and 259, are not on the files and will be passed over for the present.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 9 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives, recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 801.

Accordingly the original Bill is herewith returned.

WM. C. SPROUL.

A motion was made by Mr. RAMSEY, seconded by Mr. DEWEY,

That the communication be laid upon the table,

Which was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1049, entitled

An Act to amend section one hundred and twenty of an act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and forty) entitled "An Act concerning townships and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto" by providing for the election of two township assessors in townships of the first class containing a population of ten thousand inhabitants or more and providing for the division of such townships by the county commissioner of the respective county

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill to explain its provisions or the necessity of the act. I rather think it affects parts of townships in Allegheny County, and I would like to know the necessity or the reason for it.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PIKE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like the sponsor of this bill to explain it.

Mr. PIKE. Mr. Speaker, in response to the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Simpson), I can say that this bill is designed to relieve the work of real estate assessors in townships of the first class having a population of over ten thousand. I might cite an instance in my own township, lower Merion township, which is assessed for ninety million dollars. One assessor does all that assessing. He does all the assessing in ninety days, and the work is such that he cannot do it and do it right; and it is with that point in view we are placing this bill before you so as to relieve the work of the assessors and have two assessors do that work, and have the township divided in two parts with one assessor for one half and another assessor for the other half.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to ask the gentleman from Montgomery (Mr. Pike) if this bill would not lead to a confusion of assessments in the same township for the purpose of assessing your real estate? Would it not instead of having a uniform assessment tend to confuse the matter and make the assessments in one end of the township different from those in the other end?

Mr. PIKE. No; for the very reason that the county commissioners govern the township assessment and you would have the right of appeal in one end of the district as well as in the other.

Mr. SIMPSON. Is it not a fact that it would put a hardship on a portion of your district by being compelled to go before the county commissioners on an appeal to straighten out that which could have been done by one assessor?

Mr. PIKE. Not necessarily: no.

Mr. SIMPSON. I would like to ask who governs the time in which this assessment is to be done?

Mr. PIKE. I believe the county commissioners govern the time.

Mr. SIMPSON. And where the assessor returns his book at the expiration of ninety days to the county commissioners and makes return that he has been unable to make the assessment, do they not always extend the time, giving him ample opportunity to make that assessment.

Mr. PIKE. No sir.

Mr. SIMPSON. Can you cite an instance where that has not been done?

Mr. PIKE. In Montgomery County.

Mr. SIMPSON. In what district?

Mr. PIKE. In Cheltenham township.

Mr. SIMPSON. And do you mean to tell the House now that there was a portion of that township that went without being assessed because the county commissioners refused to extend the time to make the assessment? Is that the impression you want to convey to me?

Mr. PIKE. There is not any part of Cheltenham township that has not been assessed, but it had to be done in a short time and it could not be done properly.

Mr. SIMPSON. Well, who decides the question that it cannot be done properly? You say the county commissioners always revise it. Who decides that question?

Mr. PIKE. The appeals are made to the county commissioners and they decide it.

Mr. SIMPSON. And they decide it. So then the assessment was made, the assessment was properly made and properly verified, and they had ample time?

Mr. PIKE. It could not have been properly made; otherwise there would have been no appeal.

Mr. SIMPSON. Isn't it a fact that the appeals from that township every year are not allowed?

Mr. PIKE. There are some; yes.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—3.

Baldrige,	Benninger,	Curry, A. E.,	Simpson,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time, from page 12 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed, House Bill No. 510, file folio 2613.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Goehring,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 510, entitled

An Act to amend sections eleven and twelve of an act approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred and nine (Pamphlet Laws forty-six) entitled "An Act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the State of Pennsylvania to provide for the establishment of a State Board of Osteopathic Examiners to define the powers and duties of said Board of Osteopathic Examiners to provide for the examining and licensing of osteopaths in this State and to provide penalties for the violation of this act" by further defining the powers and authority of osteopathic physicians licensed under this act

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, it is not my purpose to be discourteous to any man who introduces a bill on this floor. Neither is it my purpose to inject any personality into any discussion, but the bill that is now under motion to be recommitted is a bill that has been on the calendar since January—from the very beginning of the session.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that it is not a motion to recommit but a motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed third reading.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I accept your correction and I will confine my remarks to the motion. This bill on third reading was placed on the postponed calendar, and then it was again called up and referred to committee and again placed on the third reading calendar. It has carried that position week in and week out until now we are almost at the closing hours of this session and again we are asked to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed third reading. I think I am in perfect accord with it providing the sponsor after it has passed the House giving its purposes and intent will make a special order on the calendar for this bill for a special day. If he will agree to that, I will withdraw my objection which I have for the reconsideration of the vote by which this bill passed third reading.

Mr. GOEHRING. I don't think that is necessary.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Goehring of Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goehring, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the provisions of this bill, it means that men who are now practicing osteopathy in its full term will be placed in the same professional position as men who are licensed under the State Board of Medical Licensure; men who are practicing homeopathy, and eclectics, is that the purpose of the bill?

Mr. GOEHRING. It is not.

Mr. STEEDLE. Then I should like to ask the sponsor of this bill to inform the members of this House as to its purpose.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, first, under the present law, the osteopaths have no right to give a death certificate or visit hospitals or give any treatment. We all appreciate the fact that when a man has ill health and is searching for comfort and relief, he has a right to call in any person who can give it. It is true that at one time ostepoathy was considered as a fake profession, although we all realize that when a man's nervous system is broken down, there is but one treatment that will give him immediate relief and benefit, and that is osteopathy. I hae no doubt but that the time is coming when the medical profession will be called on to take up this profession with its own profession. There is no question about that. I know that the members of this House feel that a man whose education is practically the same as that of the medical profession; that they have their own colleges and they must graduate from them and this act merely gives them a right to carry on the same as the law requires them to do in regard to giving a death certificate and to visit hospitals. We don't ask to be given the same right to give medicine to cure diphtheria or typhoid fever but to treat them and to cure them in some of their ailments.

Mr. STEEDLE. I regret very much that I must take exception to my colleague and friend, Mr. Goehring, from Allegheny. He informs the members of this House that this act has no purpose whatsoever in its intent to place these men in the same category as registered physicians, and as he is the sponsor of the bill, I should like to ask him to familiarize himself with the amended section number twelve, which I will read.

Section 12 Osteopathic physicians shall observe and be subject to all State and municipal regulations relating to the control of contagious diseases the reporting and certifying of births and deaths and all matters pertaining to public health the same as physicians of other schools Wherever under any law of this State a medical examination a medical certificate or medical report is required to be made by any medical inspector or physician licensed by the laws of this State such an examination certificate or report made by an osteopathic physician licensed under this act shall be accepted by the officers or department to whom the same are made with like force and effect as are medical examinations medical certificates and medical reports made by physicians licensed by the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure of this State An osteopathic physician licensed under this act shall be admitted to practice osteopathy as provided for in this act in any hospital sanitorium asylum house or other place where any persons or persons are placed for treatment or detention.

Then, again, I will call his attention to the amended section number 11, which reads as follows:

Section 11 The license provided for in this act shall authorize the holder thereof to practice osteopathy as taught and practiced in the legally incorporated reputable colleges of osteopathy as provided for in this act and shall also authorize such holder to utilize any means or agency necessary in the treatment of disease injury or deformity Whenever in any of the laws of this Commonwealth the term physician medical attendant practitioner medical inspector practitioner of medicine or term of like effect is used the same shall be taken and be construed to include an osteopathic physician licensed under this act

I ask you in all fairness whether the provisions as amended in section 11 does not bring every osteopath in the same category as licensed practicing physicians. It states, "whereby it shall be provided and necessary for the art of healing." Let us for a moment consider the act of 1909 when the Osteopath Board became operative in the State of Pennsylvania. They came before the legislative body in the year 1909 and informed the members then that a new epoch had arrived in the treatment of disease. Medicines were sent to every part of the wind as being vile, injurious and destructive to human health, and upon that plea, adding that a new craft had arrived in the treatment of diseases, this House in 1909 then saw fit to place the Osteopath Board into the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Only a period of ten years elapsed when those very men who pleaded for this bill now come back to us and say: "We cannot practice osteopathy unless we are permitted to use drugs; to use any remedial agent that may possibly be used, as we may deem necessary." Now, how unfair to the practitioners of medicine; the men who have given up the best years of their lives in acquiring a broad medical education when the standard established by the Medical Licensure has become so elevated that it has safeguarded public health, and now these men come before this body and ask you men who are sane and sound in mind to place in their hands the right to use drugs of all kinds in the practice of their particular art.

We have no falling out with the osteopaths. Their board is all right. We do not question that. But we do question the right of a shoemaker or a man who has spent three months on the study of osteopathy to be trusted with the use of morphia or any derivative of opium or cocaine, a derivative of cocoa. A bill is now in the Senate in which even hypnotics is to be prohibited in sale, and yet men who I know are practicing osteopathy today who have gone to school three months and did not attend and take personal lectures but received them by correspondence. They come here and ask you men to trust them with the use of opium. Gentlemen it is ridiculous to think that the men would even ask a sane body of men to place them in the same position. What requirements are there for entring the practice of medicine? A man must have four years of college course; he must have two years pre-medical: he must have four years instruction in a recognized medical school and he must serve one year as an interne in a hospital; in all, my friends, a period of practically eleven years in which that man must be schooled before he is privileged to take the State Board of Medical Licensure examination. Now, our friends who are in favor of this bill tell us that their requirements are identical, that their students must qualify the same. If that is true, then why don't the osteopaths ask this body to eliminate the Osteopathic Board and place every art of healing under one board where every man will be put on an equal footing and where the competition will be absolutely right and right to all and injury to none? But they don't want that. They know in their own hearts that this is nothing more than to bring a lot of men into the professions whose deductions are illogical and whose purposes are nothing more than mercenary. Gentlemen, I hope that in the exercise of your judgment you will certainly not grant these men the right to enter the practice of medicine unless they qualify and are examined before the same board as every other boy who has got to go to school and study in a recognized medical school for the length of time they now do, and I hope that this bill will be voted down.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to rise to a point of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of personal privilege.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, as to the question of reconsidering the vote whereby this bill passed third reading—

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that if the gentleman desires to raise a point of order, the time to raise that point of order was when the question of reconsideration was under consideration. The time has gone by when that point of order can be raised, and the Chair so rules.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: This has been at the present time a very beautiful scheme on the part of the allopaths and homeopaths to defeat this measure. The objections which my friend from Pittsburgh (Mr. Steedle) raises at the present time are the objections that we had who are friends of the bill and desired at that time to recommit to the Judiciary General Committee to have amended and taken out of the bill. My friend from Allegheny and a few more of the allopaths and homeopaths and horse doctors in the State are afraid. Why afraid?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Steedle).

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of personal privilege.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I accept all the remarks and criticisms of my good friend from Delaware, but I kindly ask him to refrain from placing men of reputation equally as good as he in the so-called term he applies of "horse doctors."

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Delaware to confine his remarks to the subject of the bill. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I beg the gentleman's pardon. I never had any offense in mind in naming them together. They are all treating by medicine, and that is the reason I placed them in the same class. If it offends my friend by referring to any other medical class in this connection, I ask his pardon. However, referring to this bill as it stands, I say to this House at the present time that even at that there is nothing wrong in it. Some men have raised the question that if the clause stands as it is, that the osteopath can use drugs, use medicine. Why, that is as far from the idea of the osteopath as anything under the sun. The only time there is any danger of an osteopath using drugs or medicine is, if he has a cat or dog lying around the house he might give them some medicine; but as far as treating human beings is concerned, it is the last thing he would think of, of giving any of this dope or drugs which the medical man gives. Now, gentleman, I have no brief for the osteopath. I am not here defending the osteopath; neither am I condemning the medical man. I am here for the man, the laboring man who is working in the mills, who by your act of Assembly you have required to get a certificate and present the same to the Compensation Board. Under the present act the Compensation Board, controlled as they are to a certain extent by the medical profession, refuse to accept that certificate from an osteopath. I know in my own county where a medical man treated a man who was injured in the mills for four weeks without result, and the man then went to an osteopath and was cured, and yet the board refused to receive the certificate of the man who cured him, but accepted the medical man's certificate. I say the purpose of this bill is to say you shall accept these certificates, and if you or any other poor man wants to call in an osteopath, that that osteopath may treat him and that the certificate of that osteopath shall be received by the Compensation Board. Is there anything wrong in it? Why should the medical man be afraid? If he is not afraid of his own profession, why don't he throw down the bars and say, "We are willing to stand side by side in the treatment of those requiring our services." Statistics show that the medical man is losing too many people to-day to be able to stand up and say to you and I that you cannot have an osteopath if you want one; and that what this bill is for, to say these different commissions that the men working in these different plants who want to employ an osteopath may do so. I recognize the fact that my friend from Allegheny (Mr. Steedle) speaks of, that there are quacks in osteopathy, and he must recognize the fact that there are quacks in medicine, just the same thing. He well knows that there are men to-day toting pills around the country who are no more fit to give a pill to you than I am, and I am a long way from being fit to do so. I say to you, gentlemen of the House, at the present time it is better to give this privilege to the osteopath and let him use it than give it to the medical man who will use it indiscriminately and not know what he is doing half the time.

The Doctor will come to you to-night and will feel your pulse and look at your tongue and give you a pink pill. He will come again to-morrow and give you a white pill, if he has not forgotten what he gave you the night before. That is the way they do it. They make mistakes and so does the osteopath, but if a man wants an osteopath to treat him, and he is not cured, that is his funeral. Yo do not find the ostepoaths writing letters or coming here and buttonholing you for jobs. They do not have a lobby in this House like that maintained by the medical men for the last month,—men who are here to block this legislation. If the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Steedle) would have permitted it to-day, this bill would have been referred back to the committee, and this clause, which is objectionable to the medical men, would have been taken out. If they do not want it taken out, then I ask you to vote for it to-day. Give this right to the men who are able to cure and heal. Look at the record of the physicians in the last few years. You will remember the epidemic of infantile paralysis. What did they do? They stood at the bedside of our dear ones and they said, "We do not know what it is, we do not know what to do, we do not know how to treat it." Then take the time of the influenza. Take for instance Camp Dix,— and I know this from personal knowledge,—they were hauling out the soldiers from Camp Dix as fast as they could find teams to haul them, and even then the Surgeon General of the United States Army refused to allow an osteopath to go in and treat the patients. He absolutely refused to allow this when he knew they were dying there by the hundreds every day. Murder! Murder! Are you going to assist in this murder longer, and not permit a man to call an osteopath when he wants him? They talk about not having the proper learning. I want to say to you that the osteopathic college to-day requires four hundred and thirty-one more hours than does the medical college. It has only been a few years since the allopath has been fighting the homeopath tooth and nail. They would not let them have a foothold anywhere. They laughed at their pills, and to-day are giving the same pills that the homeopath does. Is there an allopath or homeopath to-day, is there a doctor or any other medical man in this House to-day who gives the same treatment and gives the same medicine as he was taught to give in the hospital? Not one. The treatment has changed, it is entirely different. In twenty years they will change so far that they will all be osteopaths or else be out of a job. Now, gentlemen, I do not condemn the medical man, I do not condemn the osteopath. You don't have to help the osteopath. I don't care whether you do or not, because he can help himself, but give that man who works in your mill, give him the privilege of saying whether or not he wants an osteopath, and if you do give him that privilege say to the workman's compensation board, "You shall accept his certificate the same as from a physician." That is what this bill provides, that is all. I ask you, gentlemen, to vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Alexander).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Alexander) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if, as a member of the bar, or as an attorney, he would support a bill that was introduced in the Legislature giving every justice of the peace and magistrate the same powers that an attorney has.

Mr. ALEXANDER. No, Mr. Speaker, I would not.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, that is what this bill proposes to do. It is a stroke at efficiency, and I appeal to every member of the bar and every member that is in this House as to whether or not you want, after spending four or five years in preparing yourself to practice law,—as to whether or not you want the Legislature of Pennsylvania to come along and say to you, "We will allow the magistrates and the justices of the peace to have the same privileges as an attorney." Gentlemen, you have turned over the best part of your life practically in preparing for the medical profession. The Legislature of Pennsylvania has said that you must be efficient as a physician. I am not a physician; I do not belong to any "ism"; I do not belong to any "path" except the "cow-path," perhaps, but gentlemen I want to say this that we cannot throw too much of a safeguard around a profession to whom we intrust the lives of the members of our families. The osteopath is all right; I have nothing to say against him. It is all right to have an osteopath if you want one, but I thing it would be a mistake for the Legislature of Pennsylvania to say to them, "You men, with your three years of preparation, can take the place of the medical profession, the members of which have studied for six or seven years." Surely that is not consistent, and I hope the members of this House will vote down this bill.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker, to my little, infinitesimal mind, there seems to be a misconception of this bill. There is one point, to my mind, that is forgotten, that I believe in matters of this kind should be the fundamental consideration, and that is the public. Medicine undoubtedly has been practiced by both branches of the medical profession for years, and were they to be judged to-day—I speak without prejudice,—I am not a doctor and I am not baiting doctors—I have the greatest admiration for them to-day—but were they judged to-day by their practices and rules of a hundred years ago, they would be eliminated from public service. There is a new art in the treatment of diseases and the one that is capable of defining that art is he who is being treated. I hold that if an osteopath can open an office, maintain a home, educate a family and find patients to come there to be treated and cured, taking his chances as the medical man does,—I feel, in the last analysis, that the public should be the first consideration and I do know that men and women are being treated today with the best of results by the osteopaths.

Tell me what honest reason the medical men can advance to deny the right of the death certificate to be given by an osteopath in a case where his patient dies? Is the record so clean in the medical world that there is nothing to be placed at their door for the mistakes that they have made? If the doctors would be charged with the mistakes they are making today and their was a public investigation of every death that occurred of men and women and an autopsy made and a careful diagnosis of the cases and investigation after death, and it was absolutely proven that the medical men was not treating the patient for what he was really suffering from, would it be just, or is it just to have him continue to practice medicine? He comes in here and asks that the osteopath shall not be allowed to practice. When he is called in he says it is true the patient has so and so; it is a useless case; but an osteopath is called in and the patient is now alive and well. The osteopath, as I understand it, comes here and asks that his certificate of death be acknowledged; he comes here and asks that he shall receive the same treatment as the medical profession. If you wish to have an osteopath treat you, the medical man says, "No he shall not come in and interfere with my patient until after he dies."

Now my friends, members of the House, I believe the public is the best judge in this case. I believe that if the lawmaking bodies of the world were to deal with the medical profession the best results would be obtained, and you would have legislated them out of existence a hundred years ago ay, fifty years ago, and they would not stand as the monuments, silently eloquent, and eloquently silent, to those who met their death by the medical profession. I hope we may never live to see as many mistakes made by the osteopath as already are self-confessed by medical men in the world in the past; and I hope that I may be able to see my children and my friends and my family being treated with good results by the osteopath. No predjudice should be brought in this law-making chamber, and I hope they will be given a fair chance, and I know that you will vote for this bill.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, as sponsor of this bill I want to say that no man lives who has a higher respect for the medical profession than I have. I do not mean to take one job from the medical profession. If it were not for the medical profession, I question whether we would be here. Let us laud them to the heaven. And yet sometimes we have to admit one thing, and that is that the osteopath today has cured men that the medical profession have given up. I will give you one illustration. In Pittsburgh a little girl four years of age fell and never walked until she was nine years old. Was she treated by the medical profession? Yes. And what happened? An osteopath took that little girl and put her on her feet after she had been treated for five years without success. I want to say that today a man wants to protect his life, the foundations of life; and the osteopath can take that man and put him on his feet. We do not want to intrude upon the medical profession; but the day is coming when the medical profession will be only too glad to take the osteopathic course.

Now, gentlemen of the House, it cannot be said that we do not appreciate the value of the medical profession. Do not vote for this bill if you think you are going to belittle the medical profession; but if you feel that the osteopath is going to help humanity, is going to help the poor man along and put him where he belongs, vote for this bill. I do not care whether you vote for it or not, but I ask you to face humanity right square in the eye and let your conscience decide. What harm can this bill work? Is it going to deprive the medical profession of a few fees? No. Gentlemen of the House, let me say to you that this bill will not hurt the medical profession, and therefore let the medical profession vote for it.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, it is not my purpose to delay the progress of our calendar; but I cannot sit here with my ears wide open and my mouth closed to the remarks of some of the members in reference to the medical profession. No man here who favors this bill should condemn the doctors for the wrong that they have done; but let us congratulate them for the good they have done. I ask you, gentlemen, is there a profession in all the walks of life that has done more for humanity and receives less in proportion than the medical man? Let us go back to the days of the yellow fever in Panama, where men sacrificed their lives, infected themselves with the yellow jack so that they might learn from that infection the cause of the disease and its effect upon humanity, so that they might learn and teach to the world and science the method of preventing yellow jack. Let us take the history of malaria. An able general of the United States army, a physician, permitted himself to be stung by the malaria germ so that he could protect his soldiers who were in that zone. Men have infected themselves with carcinoma—that is, cancer—for the purpose of ascertaining the means of its amelioration and possible cure.

My friend from Philadelphia (Mr. Bennett) tells you that we should open the doors and be fair. Why, the gentleman from Philadelphia has not familiarized himself with the osteopathic act. The osteopath has the right to sign a death certificate and he has the right to sign a birth certificate. That is now a statutory right. We are not fighting the osteopath because he is in a craft by himself; but we are condemning this bill because it permits him to use something he has no right to use, and that is what we are fighting. We are not condemning the practice of the art; they have the right to practice it under their own board. But on the other hand my friend from Delaware (Mr. Alexander) tells you that they do not want to use drugs. Now for your information I am going to tell you that the president of the osteopathic board says, "We can no longer practice our art without the use of drugs."

That comes from the man's own mouth in the presence of his own board. That is what we are fighting for; that is what we are defending. They say, "Let us be for the laboring man." Ah, my friends, I ask you, who has done more for the laboring man than the medical profession: that man that would sacrifice, that laboring man with his left hand and with the right hand place a weapon in the hand of a man who would destroy him. That's what he wants to do. Let us defend the poor unfortunate workingman. It is true, my friends, that physicians are only human. How many attorneys have gone to the bar of justice with a client and have lost a case, and after the client has gone to another attorney who comes along and picks up the same case and goes before a bar of justice and gets a verdict of ten to fifteen thousand dollars for his client. Why didn't the first man do it? Because he had failed, through a technical question and had erred in his own diagnosis of the trouble. We don't say that we don't make mistakes. Of course we do. We are human and we are likely to err in diagnosis. While they will show you a case where a child has not walked for from six to nine years and is treated successfully, I can sight cases in the medical histories where men have been treating children and women, who have been placed in the hands of a reputable physician and went along in the progress of life just as well. The only objection we have is that they shall not receive the same privilege as the medical men unless they are qualified to assume the duties imposed upon the medical men. If they are sincere why don't they introduce a bill that all men practicing osteopathy be required to fit themselves for it by education; everything in materia medica and whether it be as a homeopathic physician or an alopathic physician whatever the school may be that he shall be competent to make a diagnosis and that they shall be examined accordingly before being permitted to assume the duties of the medical profession to see whether they can qualify and then, if they can, give them a certificate. I want to tell you men that in my own home town we had a man who had studied ostepoathy three months and to-day he has his sign up as an osteopath, and not to be outdone by a new craft that has been substituted thereto, he has added the word "chriopracty" which has stepped into the field and as he has found a new thing and of course he wants to keep in with the other fellow. I ask you in all fairness whether we can approve of that. This man was a blacksmith and in three months he put up his sign as an osteopath and I ask you whether this type of man can be trusted with the use of drugs. My friends, Mr. Goehring says that it is not the intent of this act to take anything away from the medical profession and give it to the osteopath. I maintain that it does, because the act provides that he shall be permitted to use any means as a remedial agent, whether that be drugs or whatever it may be. That is the one objection we have to it. There is nothing in the law showing that the medical men are infringing on the profession of the osteopath and we don't want the osteopath to infringe upon us, unless he is qualified, and if he is qualified, let us save the State of Pennsylvania the money is carrying on these boards. Let us have one board to examine all applicants to practice medicine, whether it be homeopathic, eclectic, alopathic, osteopathic or chriopracty, whatever it may be, then there will be no fuss and there will be no more arguing on this question. I hope that this bill as presented here now will be voted down.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that there is a particular clause in this bill which the advocates of the bill themselves are desirous of removing. With that in view. I move you, Mr. Speaker, that this House resolve into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of amendment.

The SPEAKER. It is necessary for the House to get the bill back to third reading before it can be referred to a Committee of the Whole.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I withdrawn my motion and let it go to roll call.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware, having withdrawn his motion, the clerk will call the roll.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. RAMSEY asked and received unanimous consent to offer the following motion, which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

Moved by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Ramsey, seconded by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cox, that House Bill No. 973, file folio 2881, entitled:

A joint resolution proposing an amendment to section one article eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

on page five of today's calendar, bills on third reading, be made a special order of business at once.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 973, entitled

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend House Bill No. 973, file folio 2881 by striking out all of lines 27 and 28, on page 2, and lines 1 and 2, on page 3.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be made in accordance with the instruction of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. In view of the fact that the amendment consists merely of a strike-out, the bill is now on final passage.

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I am opposed to the legislation. This resolution places the question of woman suffrage before the direct vote of the people for their approval or disapproval. Now, this question was considered by the people of Pennsylvania hardly four years ago, in the November election of 1915. I think that all of us here remember that election. In the city of Philadelphia from every street corner—and no doubt the situation was similar throughout the State—the suffragettes were appealing to the voters of Pennsylvania and pleading their cause for the right to vote. I dare say that of the thousands of speakers upon that subject throughout the State, not five per cent were anti-suffragettes, and yet all of us know how decisively the people decided that question. I ask, Mr. Speaker, how do we analyze that vote? Take for instance the case of the father who has a daughter, who has brought the child up from babyhood and sent her to school, gave her an education, bought her the best clothes, probably an automobile, and when that daughter grows up to the age of maturity, just picture the father going to the polls in November, 1915, and that daughter saying to the father, "As you vote to-day, remember to-day there is a question of woman suffrage. I want you to vote to-day and give me my right to vote." Take the case of a son and a mother. Need I tell you how much a son loves his mother? Yet suppose she would have said to the boy, "Son, as you go to the polls to-day, remember the rights of your mother and give her the right to vote." Take the case of a man and wife who are married and live together for the balance of their years, and she bears forth children and those children are a greater comfort to him than all the treasures of his gold, and she says, "Dear, when you go to the polls to-day, give your wife the right to vote." And so I could go on and give you other relationships, and yet when the vote was counted, we find that the question was defeated. Now you take these men that I have enumerated, who go to the shops, who go to the mills, who go to the stores, and to their offices and work there night and day to bring home their money so that the women folks can have the ease and the luxury and the fruits of his labors; take the case of these men who go out upon the battlefield and die for the women at home; you mean to tell me, Mr. Speaker, that if these women folks wanted the right to vote, that we would refuse them that vote? I say, "No"; but I say that it was not the women voters of Pennsylvania. It was not the suffragettes or the anti-suffragettes that decided the question in 1915. It was the friends of the courageous, home-loving women of Pennsylvania that decided that contest.

It was the grand and courageous and home-loving women of Pennsylvania that decided that contest. It is said that since the war a decided change of sentiment has taken place on account of the war services rendered by the women to the State and to the Nation. I deny that Mr. Speaker. I say that the women of Pennsylvania served this Commonwealth and served this Nation, and do not expect compensation for such services. The price of that service is not the ballot. We who oppose women suffrage say this to you, men of the House: that man and women are created in this world to perform functions that are separate and distinct. We say to you that the hard and arduous and rough work is the work of the man, while the soft, the tender, the more beautiful and the more refined, is the work of the woman. We expect the man to go out upon the battlefields and fight: we expect the man to dig the trenches; we expect the man to man the ships of war; we expect him to be the fireman, the policeman, and the boiler-maker; we expect him to go out in the morning to work all day long to provide for his wife and children. We expect a woman to stay with her family, to take care of that home, to take care of it so that it will be a comfort to the husband who does all the work. We say that when a man goes to the polls and votes he has expressed the vote of the family unit. I agree with Mrs. Oliphant in her argument that the State does not rise higher than the family, that the more beautiful, the home the more prosperous is the Commonwealth; the finer the home, the better citizens we have. We are now engaged in finer things than woman suffrage. Let us not saddle our constituents with an expense and with an annoyance which they so recently have decided. Let us spend our money and take care of the soldiers that are coming from across the sea, and not put our State in turmoil again. Only in November, 1915, the Commonwealth decided this question, and until we feel that there has been a decided change in sentiment, until we feel that the women of Pennsylvania want the vote, I say to you we should not give it to them, but let us vote this measure down.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Speaker, I am in favor of this bill and have been for a number of years. Pathetic indeed has been the struggle of woman for her rights. Dewitt Hillis tells us that when George Washington journeyed to New York City to be inaugurated as the first president of the United States, little children threw flowers in his pathway in Trenton, but the little girls were not permitted at that time to attend the common schools. It was thought in dignified Trenton, that a girl should not have a common school education, that it would rob her of some of her feminine delicacy. In 1824, the high schools were opened for the admission of girls as for the admission of boys. The boys had been granted the privilege prior to that time. It was found that the girls were so desirous of securing a higher education that in 1825 the doors of the high schools of Boston were closed against the girls, lest by securing their higher education, they might be deprived of certain feminine delicacy. In 1837, the high school or college for women was opened through the work of Mary Lyon. She persevered, and as a result of that, that institution was opened. It was said that a college education would deprive a woman of some of her delicacy and will keep her away from her home and home institutions, that the home is her place. Then they said that women should not participate in the services in a church. They finally opened the church for the participation of women in prayer meetings and exhortations. In that way they found that women was not degraded. Now they tell us that it will rob a woman of certain of her queenly dignity if they grant her the privilege of voting. It has not degraded her to go to the common school and to the high school and to graduate from college, and I dare say it will not degrade her to cast the ballot. I did not always say or believe that a woman should not vote. Why? Because she is a woman. Well should the fact that she is a woman deprive her of certain rights that are granted to men? I thought and I said that a woman should not vote because it would lower her just a little, that it would rob the woman in a way of her queenly dignity, that if we would grant her the privilege of voting that it would put the woman just a little lower. I have seen women voting. I have been in Kansas on election day. I never saw any hysteria. I have seen order and nothing but order. They deposited their ballots as they would put a letter in the mail-box, and just as quietly. They have been voting there so long that they do not take the matter any more seriously than they did the matter of their going to college and high school. Rob her of her dignity! Not one iota. They say that by coming in contact with men that it will lower them. Why, have these ladies here been lowered in associating with us men in the last three or four weeks? I know that we men have not been lowered any. The fact of the matter is that I have had my suit pressed at least one more time than it would have been had it not been for he presence of our ladies. I say, if we allow the ladies to vote, because she is more delicate and a little better maybe we will be a little better because she goes with us to the polling place. I say that I have seen it, and seeing is believing. It has been said that she is not fitted educationally in such a manner that will enable her to grasp the matters of state. Could not a woman have voted intelligently on granting certain privileges to the osteopaths? Could not a woman vote intelligently on the Philadelphia bills or any other bills that come before this house. It is a matter of record that there are as many, if not more, women to-day in the high schools and colleges as men. More women are engaged seriously in the study of great questions than men. They have their clubs and they get together in the afternoon and discuss these subjects. What about us men? We pick up the morning paper and hustle down town. Then in the evening we pick up the evening paper and hustle home. But the women have their clubs where they meet and study these questions, and the woman will show more culture and education until they will be on one side of the world and the world will tip over. They are as competent of weighing questions as the men are.

What have the women done in this war? They have done marvelous things, but I would not say that they should have the vote for that reason alone. I do not say that women should be granted the ballot because I think they will bring on the millenium. I believe they are a little more susceptible to moral issues and sanitary issues than the men, but I do not believe that they will bring on the millenium. I believe they will help us to better things because of their finer sentiment, but I am in favor of women being granted the ballot first, foremost and forever, because it is right, because it is right. Women must live under the law, and if she does, she should be granted the privilege of saying under what law it should be, by whom that law will be enacted and by whom that law will be enforced. I am in favor of it and will vote for it because I believe that it is woman's inalienable right. Some women do not want to vote, but if we give them the privilege, then we may have their assistance and their indulgence when they vote. I believe in it and will vote for it because it is right, because it is right.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I have no intention of prolonging this session any further than to ask the members of the House at this time to vote for this bill, which is a resolution to place before the electorate of Pennsylvania the question of whether or not we desire to grant equal suffrage to women. That is all this measure itself does. I just want to call your attention, however, to the remarks of the gentlemen from Philadelphia (Mr. Aron), who contends particularly that this measure has been before the people of Pennsylvania in 1915. If this resolution passes to-day and passes the Senate it will have to be acted upon two years from now and will not be voted on by the people of Pennsylvania until 1921, or six years from 1915. The gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Aron) says, or asks rather, "Is there any sentiment yet in existence in this State for woman suffrage?" I say to you, gentlemen of the House, if I did not believe that there was still a desire upon the part of a large number of women of Pennsylvania to have the electorate and decide this question, I would never have consented to present this resolution. This matter, since Pennsylvania has voted on it, has been passed favorably by several States of this Union. It has been in the Federal Congress of the United States, and lost by only one vote in the Senate of the United States for Federal suffrage for women; and you ask me, "Is there any sentiment whereby we as men of Pennsylvania should not give those who have the right the privilege to decide these things for themselves?" I say to you, gentlemen of the House, this bill is simply to allow the men of Pennsylvania in 1921 to declare whether or not they want to have the women of Pennsylvania given equal rights; and I hope that, in the spirit which seems to me to be abroad in this land, the spirit where every man should have the privilege of answering for himself, shall prevail to-day in this House, and that we will give the men of Pennsylvania the right in 1921 to vote as to whether they feel that the women of Pennsylvania should vote or not. I hope it will pass to-day, and I hope it will pass two years from now, so the men can decide for themselves whether or not they want this measure.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I had no thought of getting up on the floor of the House on this particular bill. The gentleman who was to get up in opposition to this bill (Mr. Dithrich) is not and has not been in the House this morning; and I feel in my very weak way that I ought at least make a feeble effort to take his place. He and I, of course, represent the same district in Allegheny county, the largest district that there is in the State of Pennsylvania—a district that has more diversified interests than any district that we have in Pennsylvania; a district that has a greater population than any district that we have in Pennsylvania—and he not being here, I feel that the district ought at least to be heard in opposition to this bill. While I may be trespassing upon the prerogatives of some of the gentlemen in this House—I might use a better word, I might say infringing on the prerogative, which would possibly make a better sentence—I still feel that that prerogative, either assumed or delegated is no greater prerogative than the prerogative that I represent, and that prerogative is the prerogative of the people and not a delegated or assumed prerogative of any particular organization. I tell you it was that prerogative that this particular organization appealed to when they wanted to get into power, and I was one of the men who asked to come out to fight that particular prerogative in order that this organization might come into power. Still it seems to me like an assumption on my part to oppose them, but I feel that I am absolutely justified in representing the people of my particular district in opposing this particular measure. No man in this House thinks more of the women than I do, not even Mr. Jordan; and I do not blame Mr. Jordan for having his suit pressed an extra time while he was here in this House, because had I lived as long as he has and remained a bachelor, I would make every effort in the world to try to get some good woman to help me through this life. I believe myself that they are far superior to men, but I do not think for a minute that granting them the right to go to the polls and deposit a vote is going to better their condition, because I do think that if there is anything God placed in his footstool that was more beautiful than another it was woman—woman in all her moral beauty; woman in all her moral instincts; woman in all that is grand and good—and placing the ballot on her hands is not going to make her any better. I tell you that there is nothing holier in the sight of God than woman—woman when she first cuddles the babe at her breast—and placing the ballot in her hands is only giving another responsibility to that mother and that woman. When Mr. Jordan talks about the public schools he does not have to go outside of the State of Pennsylvania. I know from reading the works on public schools in the State of Pennsylvania that the first public school that was established west of the Allegheny Mountains was in 1836, and that was right on Fifth avenue, in the city of Pittsburgh, exactly where the old "Leader" office stands today; and the first teachers that were employed were two, and the first pupils who went to that school were four young ladies. So you don't have to go to Boston.

Mr. SPEAKER, we have just as good women in the State of Pennsylvania as they have in Boston, and we have just as good women in the State of Pennsylvania as they have in Kansas, and I know because I was there. I was there when they voted and I say that we have just as good women here as they have in the State of Montana. I was there and I watched them at the polls and I heard Jeannette Rankin make her speeches in her tour in the State of Montana, and it did not place her in the same class with Florence Nightingale, and it will not in placing the ballot in her hands. She said that the ballot was one of the grandest things in the world, but Florence Nightingale did not know what the ballot meant. Why should we burden women with the ballot? When we talk about it we say that her rights are the same rights that we have and that they should vote. The only right, I say, as to their voting or as to our voting is that which the law gives to us. It is not a right that is inherent in us; it is not a right that is equal in us; it is not that which belongs to woman because it has been delegated to man. I say to you, that the greater responsibility you thrust upon the women, the less you can expect from them. Because through the troublesome times that have just been passed no people in the world have done nobler work or worked more grandly or more nobly and more untiresomely than the women of the United States, and the women of the State of Pennsylvania, and they were at work for the purpose of getting those things done; they were at work for the sole and express purpose of helping the country in order that we might live under a democracy; in order that we might live without being trampled under the foot of brutal autocracy, and they never thought of such a thing as votes. They worked because of the womanly instinct, which pushed them forward to do their duty and the responsibility that they assumed they took because it was for the purpose of discharging their duty. Now, we come in here and we find some women preying upon the sympathy of men by reason of those women having done that which God intended that they should do. I ask you to vote this measure down because I feel that it is unjust, unwise, unpatriotic and unmanly.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrupt the gentleman from Allegheny in order to read from Smull's Hand Book, page 320, which has the vote upon the proposed amendments to the Constitution of Pennsylvania. This is under date of November 2, 1915. I am reading the vote on number one amendment which was on "Equal Suffrage for Women." I find that the vote in Allegheny was 50,557 for equal suffrage and 47,539 against it.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Simpson, will resume.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, the people in my district voted against equal suffrage. Allegheny County is one of the largest counties that is in the State of Pennsylvania: almost big enough to be a State, and at one time was called "the grand old State of Allegheny County." My district voted against it.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker, in discussing this resolution that is before this body today, I feel that it little matters what we did or what this House did a year or two or five years ago, because if the world moves up and forward, what we did yesterday was, however, possibly prominent then, but we should leave that as ancient, today. I hear many compliments paid to women. There are very many beautiful things written about them. It would seem that when God could not be everywhere he might put mothers in many places. Painters, idealists, poets and philosophers have paid tribute from time immemorial to women. Today I hear men say, "Don't give her the ballot; she is too high, she is too holy, to beautiful; we will drag her down." It is but a short time ago, my friends, if you will turn back for a moment when women sat by the fireside. I remember my grandmother, when I was a child, knitting, and the goods that were made for the children in my home were made by her, by a woman. My grandmother had thirteen grandchildren and when their shirts were made and their stockings and their sweaters, they were made by the grandmothers of that day. In this blessed land of America, in every human activity, in the productivity of material wealth, woman stands on the firing line, and she has been brought there not of her own volition, but she has been invited there by men to go from the fireside to the factory. There is not a dollar's worth of wealth produced in this grand land of ours from coast to coast and from the lakes to the gulf, but that has been produced with the help of the almighty genius of the women. It would be useless for me to speak of the argument of the man who holds her too Holy to vote, or that she should have a legitimate, active part in the destiny of her nation, because it is hers as well as it is our. She is not too Holy to go to the mills; she is not too Holy to go to the office: she is not too Holy to graduate from the college or the high school. Do you recall the remuneration to be handed to your daughter and that which is to be handed to your son? There we have striking instances that are a shame to civilization, in the twentieth century. There we have the girl leaving school to teach school, for instance, being offered a remuneration of six hundred dollars, or four hundred dollars, while her brother, graduating from the same school, receives a much higher stipend. I ask you in justice and fair play, does your sister, coming from Philadelphia to Harrisburg, by the Pennsylvania Railroad, have any privilege, or is there a reduction made in the fare because she is a woman? If she buys a beefsteak at the Penn-Harris Hotel does she get a rebate? Does she get a special rebate today for anything? Does she pay less rent than a man? Positively no. It is a crying shame to twentieth century civilization to have victimized woman because of her sex and in refusing to give her mentality, her education, her sacrifices and her services entitle her to. There is no more glorious service performed by mankind than the service of our mothers. My friend has said, the policeman on duty, the soldier in the trench and in the battlfield, has performed a service and does perform a service that is not performed by woman. My dear friends, woman's place from the day of her birth now and in the long past has been in the one battlefield; the battlefield that strives toward human existence; that battlefield that begins and ends with the perpetuation of the human race, and how many of our women and our mothers have gone down in the valley of death? How many millions of our sisters and our woman friends have gone down in the twilight zone that the race may be perpetuated by motherhood.

They are a legion, the dead of womankind that have given their lives that you and I might live. The millions that have died on the battlefield,—they are inconsiderate, they are absolutely reduced to nothing compared to those that have given their lives for the race and were lost, and we, in great Pennsylvania, stand up today and laud her to the skies and we say

"O, were I damned of body and soul,
Mother o' mine, mother o' mine,
I know whose prayers would make me whole,
Mother o' mine, mother o' mine;
And were I hung on the highest hill,
Mother o' mine, mother o' mine,
I know whose love would follow me still,
Mother o' mine, mother o' mine;
And were I condemned to the deepest sea,
Mother o' mine, mother o' mine,
I know whose tears would come down to me,
Mother o' mine, mother o' mine."

We sing beautiful poetry for mothers and for women; we adopt the dual system of remuneration for them; we say to the father and mother who brings them into life and educates them as a pure business, financial proposition, your girl has cost you six thousand dollars to educate to a period where you turn her out in society to live and to contribute to society, and will give her fifteen dollars per week. His boy, reared at the same fireside, for the same amount of money, is turned out to receive twenty-five dollars per week or whatever the rate may be. Will Pennsylvania today stand up and acclaim and say

"Not yet the first by which the new is tried,
And O, not last to lay the old aside."

I am as sure as I am that slavery is gone, I am as sure that the prejudices against women entering the arts, education and science are past, I am as sure as I look into your faces and you look into mine, that woman suffrage is coming, not only in this land, but in every land under the sun where the school and library stud the hillside, the valley and the streets. Will any Pennsylvanian put an objection and a black mark against it at this hour so freighted with the destiny that the women of this State have given who are not asking a service but are asking a moral right? Lincoln himself, the great emancipator, went down in black and white on the belief that women should vote. It is a long time ago. She is still not voting. The service she has rendered, the service she has given at home, the service she has given on the battlefield, where flowed the blood and the mangled brains were strewed and the grass made red by the blood of dying men, are too well known to us all. I hear no man in this land or chamber, or North or South, cry out "Don't let your daughters go to the frgihtful battlefields of Europe where there is so much devastation, where there is so much misery and so much murder; where the most frightful fragments of human bodies, literally torn limb from limb, are strewn! where she will stand by the surgeons side seeing the human body cut to pieces that the victim may yet live." I hear no man say, "Don't let your daughters go." They have gone there and they have written an immortal page of history under the banner of human sacrifice. If woman is good enough to bring us into this world, to stand by my cradle, if she is good enough to soothe the fever from my brow and good enough to stand long vigil hours when pain racked my body and the hand of death reached out to take me from the living, that mother, if she is good enough to be in every activity commercially in this land, if she is good enough to go into the battlefields to serve the dying soldier, if she is good enough to educate me and to pay millions of dollars in taxes, if she is good enough to be called a woman, a mother and an American citizen, she has a divine right, she has a moral right, she has a right that you or I cannot keep away from her, and that is, that her day and her hour are here when she shall take her place in this State and help to put through that splendid platform that our great Governor has laid down in his inaugural address, a constructive forward movement, a forward-looking platform of human progress and uplift.

That woman has the right at this hour and in this State to stand up and take her part, and I hope that we here to-day will go on record for Pennsylvania that not only shall we pass this resolution but by every fiber in our minds and bodies and by every instinct show that we stand back of her so that two years hence, with the casting of the votes that are given here to-day, there will be such an incentive that the guarantee will come in 1921, as Mr. Ramsey says that the great, good, big, splendid Governor predicts for women who will be giving the best services that is in them, not for any selfish purpose but for the welfare of their own great State of Pennsylvania when they will be granted suffrage then as we will pass this resolution to-day, I hope, unanimously.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I am not scheduled to speak on this subject to-day. I may be rushing in where angels might fear to tread, but I am not an angel. I am another bachelor. I feel a surge of words coming up in me, but I am only going to speak a minute and not the time that I feel as though I would like to talk. Yesterday when I ate my lunch at home my sisters sat at the same table with me. They partook of the same food; they participated in the same conversation which interested me. Afterwards, they read the same newspaper in which I had read; they sat in the same living room; an undivided share of it was theirs. They sat beneath the same roof, an undivided portion of which was theirs. A part of their money had gone to pay the taxes upon that home, and they could claim the same concern, the same interest in any law affecting that home as could I, and I ask you gentlemen why I, not five foot of man, should be permitted to step across the street next November and cast a ballot and not them? I ask why I should have the privilege of helping to select the men who will tax that home, and not them? I ask you why I should have the prerogative of helping to choose the men who will look after the street in front of that home, the men who will legislate about that home, and not them? I challenge any man to give one reason under the principles of a true democracy, under the principles of a truly Republican form of government which would justify the giving of the ballot to me and the denying of it to them; which would justify the giving of the ballot to the foreignborn, who can name the President of the United States and the Governor of Pennsylvania and read and write a little, and deny it to your sisters who are out in the world making their own way?

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, you are dealing with no trivial subject. There is no bill that has come before you this session, and I dare say there will not be a bill that will come before you this session, that contains so much of importance as this measure. It is not a measure for us to smile at nor to wink at, nor to talk about the "pressing of pants." It is strange to me, and it always has seemed strange to me, that the individual who knows the least about a subject wants to say the most. Now if our friend, the Reverend Jordan, is such a lover of the fair sex, why does not he obey the scripture and take unto himself a wife. He might then come in here on this floor and talk on this subject with the experience of a married man and not from that of an old batchelor who knows nothing about it. He will find out at sometime that I am telling him the truth. He talks about the teachers in colleges and schools. He talks about elevating women. Putting women in politics is degenerating women.

Let us go back for a moment—and I will not stay there very long—to the Garden of Eden. God created all things, and after his experience with the animals of the world, with the fields and forests, he created man, and he dwelt sometime thereafter—we know not how long, possibly the speaker across the way does not know anything about women can tell us—and after that experience he knew from his creation that his last creation was without a mate and that that creation was praying to God for a helpmate. And God, in all his wisdom, created one, a more refined one, one which has been termed and rightfully termed, the flower of man. Did he create the second creation in the same form as the first? No. Was she to assume all the hardships and responsibilities and labors which he considered that man was to assume? No. What are we trying to do here to-day? You are attempting to shift the responsibility that God Almighty has placed upon your shoulders to the shoulders of your wife. If he knew what He was doing—and we don't question that—then we should follow his creation and his teaching. Elevate woman! There are some people here who say that you allow this and the other different nationalities, that cannot read or write, to vote, and you won't allow your wives to vote. No. No. I have always regarded my dear old mother, who opposed this measure, as being above that class, I have always regarded my wife as being above that class, I have always regarded my daughter as being above that class of people, and I do not want my wife or daughter ever to be placed on a plane with that class of people, and if you get women into politics that is what you must expect, and that is what will happen. What we want is more motherhood, which means more prayer, and let me say to you, gentlemen, there is one thought I want to mention to you now, that I remember in my boyhood, if I do not put it into practice now, my mother's and father's prayer at home. If there is a prayer that I will ever remember and never forget it is mother's prayer, and mother was not engaged in politics. She was not going out in the political arena seeing the neighbors' wives' husbands and inquiring when she would be away. She didn't walk the streets and alleys and buttonhole the men in politics. She was too refined for that, and God bless her, she remained so until at the age of eighty-nine years when the good God saw fit to take her away. She was a refined woman and would not mingle with politicians. She was above that in the eyes of God and man. There is another thing; that mother had better train the children, the boy and girl. There is where she is making statesmen, there is where she is molding womanhood,—I mean motherhood. I respect women, I love and respect motherhood. There is the difference, gentlemen of this House. Take the words of Thomas Jefferson—we have school teachers in here both men and women, suffragettes and anti-suffragettes—he said that the place for the mother was at the home, that she could soothe the wrinkled brow of the husband when he returned home in the evening after a hard day's work in the political arena. Not only that, but during that time she could soothe the brow of her infant child and teach him the way that he should go. And she was not out in the political arean. No, she is at home training that child in the way which it should go. You know the old saying about training a child in the first six years and letting you do what you want to do with it thereafter.

What the husband wants is to come home and find the smile of his wife and have the smile of his children meet and greet him. It makes him feel as though he had a home and life was worth living, but you cannot expect that if he must assume the entire charge of the children and have his wife go out in the political arena; neither can you expect that when she is out in the political arena and she puts her children in the hands of some negro wench or Italian women, where they receive such a training as you yourself would not permit them to receive if you were present to see it. You want your wife to train them. You have the counsel of Miss Shaw and you have the council of Thomas Jefferson. Thomas Jefferson prophesied just what came true, just one of the things that Miss Shaw is advocating, when he said, "If you follow certain principals you will lose all the rest of society, and the condition of this nation will be entirely different."

Miss Shaw—and you will pardon this one sentence. So it shall not be misquoted I will read it to you. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw says, "I believe in woman suffrage." Now note why. "Whether all women vote or no women vote, whether all women vote right, or whether all women vote wrong, or whether all women vote wrong, whether women will love their husbands after they vote or forsake them, whether they will neglect their children or never have any children." Why do I make reference to Thomas Jefferson? References of this kind and character should be allowed to go at large. Any human being who stands up and says they will neglect their children or never have any, and whether they love their husbands or not—are we to be doomed by a curse of that kind? Yes, Yes, I have been sent a card, a loving card in a mourning envelope. I tore it up and threw it away. But listen to this card. "Please give Pennsylvania women the vote. German women have the vote." I say this is a damnable thing when to have to be subjected to matters of this kind and character. We have Germany cited to us. German women vote and Russian women vote. What in the name of God has it done for their country and humanity, driving them until they have brought ruin to Europe? And yet they cite that country and say we ought to follow in their footsteps. In Germany and Russia where women vote they pay no attention at all to their children. In Russia woman is considered as mere property and her children are not considered hers. The women and children belong to the country the same as cattle. Now they talk about taxation without representation, but they are not without representation. Let me ask where is the woman's father; where is her son; where is her husband; where is her boy? Do they vote without representation? There ought to be four in the family. This was when they were taxed without representation over there in Parliament. We were dependent upon one another. We stand in our own footsteps. We are standing there today notwithstanding the hue and cry for the League of Nations. We have stood since seventy-six and will stand five times seventy-six more. It does not seem to me that with all the good things and with all the blessed things, with all the luxuries and social gatherings we have now, that we are now enjoying and that surround us, women should be contented. I will venture one assertion in conclusion. If you remove that particular part of the women suffrage question that relates to motherhood there will be no objection in Pennsylvania.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House: As I understand it quite a bit of time has already been taken up in debate on this bill. I am sorry I was not here when the bill was called. I was assured last night by the sponsor of the bill that he would let it come up in its regular course. I was in attendance this morning and did not know the bill would be made a special order at this time. But I understand my colleague from Allegheny (Mr. Simpson) very ably took my place and presented arguments against this bill, probably better than I could have done.

It is not my purpose to go into any extended discussion of this measure. If I allowed my spirit of gallantry to dictate my vote on the question I would vote "aye;" but I believe that on a question of this character we should be guided by some other consideration than the spirit of gallantry towards womanhood. I yield to no man in loyalty or gallantry. But I do not believe my vote should be guided by such considerations. On the contrary, I feel it my duty to oppose the bill and get down and talk against and advocate its defeat. If the votes are given to pass this measure the result will not be what is expected by the political parties.

Some of the political leaders have advocated the expediency of going on record in favor of this measure. It is a play for the women vote. But they will be disappointed, as was clearly shown at the convention at St. Louis when the organized women voters organized the League of Women Voters. The character and purpose of that organization is outlined in the statement of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National Suffrage Association. I will briefly read from an interview with her in the New York World of Sunday last.

"Our immediate concern," said Mrs. Catt, "will be the problem of lowgrade citizenship. We are not an uplift organization; we are a political organization in the sense of having a programme not a platform. We don't propose to clean up politics except by indirection, but to clean up the causes which make bad politics. Having no candidates to advance, and being therefore independent, we can pursue the work which the dominant political parties would undoubtedly undertake were they not bound by the vote they cannot afford to antagonize.

"There are groups of people in the community some of whom do not speak English, many ineligible for various graver reasons, and these the parties do not wish to offend by any cleaning out process or demands of higher citizenship requirements.

In other words, gentlemen, we are not competent to decide what is for the best interests in the Republican party or in the Democratic party. The man voters of the country are not competent to bring about those reforms and remedies that are demanded. It is necessary for the League of Women Voters to be organized to dictate what the party rulings and functionings should be.

"What we are after is a better electorate. What the parties cannot, because of their system, accomplish, we propose to accomplish for them and in doing it shall hope to have the co-operation of both dominant parties. Illiteracy and too easy qualification for the vote have existed for a century.

"Now we propose to create so wide-spread a demand for the correction of these ills that all parties will adopt the movement and make it part of their programme. This work is so patriotic, so obviously needed, that its success is assured.

"The League of Women Voters will be made up of women of all parties, but will itself be non-partisan. Aside from the work for the enfranchisement of women and league will work for the best laws and best practices in all States. Committees composed of experts will work out the programme to be voted upon by the House at each annual convention.

"The betterment of election methods and all the phases of the effort to improve citizenship, together with the aims affecting the protection of women in industry which were accepted at St. Louis, will occupy us until the next convention in February, 1920, which celebrates the one hundredth anniversary of Susan B. Anthony's birthday. As fast as States are fully enfranchised they will merge into Women's Voters' Leagues in State, county, city or precinct groups. No State with only Presidential suffrage will assume these subdivisions till the full vote is won.

Broadly, our programme is one of organization, education, investigation and legal work. Our Ultima Thule is a Nation redeemed from charges of corruption and ignorance, and a democracy safe for the world."

Let me say in conclusion, gentlemen of the House, you who feel the expediency of voting for this measure are not doing anything which will be a help to the Republican party, state or national, and you are not doing anything that will help the Democratic party in the state or nation. You are simply playing into the hands of the women who are organizing the League of Women Voters. That will increase rather than lessen the problems of Government.

Mr. Speaker, I ask you if you are going to allow certain leaders to deliver your party over on a measure of this sort on the ground of political expediency? I know that the men who are here to fight for this measure are not in favor of it. They don't feel that the women should be given a right to vote. There is no reason or any necessity for it, and, furthermore, there is no demand for it. My opposition came originally from a thought on which I am firmly fixed that a large and vast majority of the women in the United States are opposed to this measure either actively or passively. They don't want suffrage, and are you going to deliver the whole State over in order to satisfy the few women who are here clamoring for it. Let me again appeal to you to disregard political expediency on this question and urge that you vote in accordance with your conviction and don't be misled on a proposition of this sort but vote it down.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Mr. WOODRUFF. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I desire to make an explanation in reference to this motion. This is the bill known as the School Teachers' Salary Bill to which there has been added, by Mr. Sterling of Philadelphia, provisions which take care of employes. A sentiment is abroad to the effect that the matter ought to be brought before the House for consideration In deference to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, who requires some little time to get his data together, the sponsors of this bill, not wanting to take advantage of anyone who desires to discuss it, and therefore move to make this matter a special order for second reading on Monday night next, so that an amendment may be offered fairly before the House to eliminate the employes from that particular bill. Hence this motion.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Marshall, will state his question.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, during the last session I voted "Yes" on House Bill No. 166, file folio 2555, under a misapprehension and I would like to have it so noted on the Journal.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's remarks will be noted in the Journal and the correction will be made in the Legislative Journal.

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, the Chair will declare a recess until until 4:30 o'clock P. M.

Whereupon (at 2:10 o'clock P. M.) the House took a recess until 4:30 o'clock P. M.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 4:30 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN THE SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

RESOLUTION.

In the House of Representatives, April 22, 1919.

Whereas, The Department of War of the United States Government has issued an order requesting the County Commissioners of Allegheny County to elevate certain bridges over the Allegheny River in the city of Pittsburgh, and

Whereas, The city of Pittsburgh has lately, at a large expense to the city and to the abutting property owners, graded and raised from one to three and a half feet the grades of Fifth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Federal, Duquesne Way, Penn Avenue and other streets to conform to the present grade of existing bridge, and

Whereas, The enforcement of the order of the Department of War would entail a cost and loss estimated at a sum not less than fifty millions of dollars, and

Whereas, Public improvements in said county have been at a standstill for the last two years in order that every energy might be directed toward bringing the war to a successful conclusion, and

Whereas, Further delay in making necessary public improvements will cause an irreparable set-back to the progress of Allegheny County, and

Whereas, Said bridges do not at present interfere with traffic on said river and boats can be built small enough and of sufficient power to handle all traffic on said river and which can safely pass beneath said bridges; therefore,

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania does hereby petition the Government of the United States and the Secretary of War to reconsider the order heretofore made relative to the elevation of bridges in the City of Pittsburgh and to take such action as may be just in the premises tending to rescind this order or to mollify the same in such manner as to prevent the saddling of this enormous cost on the county of Allegheny and its citizens.

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Commonwealth is hereby directed to forward copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, to the Senate and House of Represntatives of the United States and to the Secretary of War for the United States.

SENATE MESSAGE.

Horne,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1138 as follows:

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth to rebuild county bridges over eight hundred feet in length located on State Highways where such bridges have been heretofore destroyed by fire providing for the appointment of veiwers and inspectors and for the payment of the costs of rebuilding such bridges and imposing certain charges upon counties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall rebuild all county bridges over eight hundred feet in length lying wholly within any one county and located on State Highway routes which have been heretofore destroyed by fire

Section 2 The county commissioner in any county in which such county bridge was located may apply by petition to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County setting forth fully in said petition the location of such bridge the time when a bridge was first erected in the same location the time when the bridge was destroyed by fire the character of the bridge so destroyed and the probable cost of rebuilding the same

Section 3 Thereupon it shall be the duty of the court to appoint three viewers one of whom shall be a civil engineer and not more than two of whom shall be residents of the county wherein such bridge is proposed to be built

Section 4 The viewers so appointed after having been duly qualified to faithfully perform their duties shall proceed to fix the location of the proposed bridge and make report at such time as the court may direct which report shall contain an accurate statement of the kind and character of the bridge destroyed which it is proposed to replace the length of time since the first bridge was built on the proposed location the length of the bridge together with the recommendation of the viewers as to the kind of bridge needed and the probable cost thereof It shall be the duty of the said viewers to inquire whether the accommodations of the traveling public in the locality demands the rebuilding of said bridge

Section 5. Due notice shall be given to the Attorney General of the time of filing the petition and application of viewers and it shall be his duty to appear for and defend the interests of the Commonwealth in all such proceedings

Section 6 Upon the filing of such report the county interested and the Commonwealth shall have the right to file exceptions thereto at any time within thirty days

Section 7 It shall be the duty of the court after full hearing by deposition or otherwise as the said court may direct to determine all questions stated in the petition or the exceptions thereto and to enter a final order thereupon from which order such county or the Commonwealth shall have the right of an appeal to the supreme court within thirty days

Section 8 In case the report of the viewers or a majority of them is in favor of the erection of the bridge and the same is confirmed by the court the court shall order and direct such rebuilding Thereupon it shall be the duty of the Board of Commissoners of Public Grounds and Buildings immediately to proceed and have prepared in conformity with the report of the viewers such plans and specifications of the proposed bridge as may be necessary and shall appoint a superintendent of construction and fix his salary which shall in no case exceed five per centum of the amount of the contract

Section 9 After advertising for bids in not less than three daily newspapers two of which shall be published in the county in which such bridge is located and the other in one newspaper published at the seat of the government for a period of three weeks the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings shall proceed to let the contract for the rebuilding of such bridge to the lowest and best bidder In case all bids are rejected the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings shall readvertise and let bids in the manner hereinbefore provided

Section 10 Every bridge so erected by the Commonwealth shall be inspected by three fit persons to be appointed by the court of common pleas of Dauphin County none of whom shall be residents of or property holders in the county wherein the bridge is located who shall make report to the court of the result of their inspection

Section 11 When the report is made by the inspectors that such bridge has been erected according to the contract for the erection of the same the report shall be approved by the court If the persons so appointed shall not approve the same they shall report to the court what sum in their judgment ought to be deducted from the sum stipulated in such contract Thereupon the court shall grant a rule upon the builder or contractor to show cause against the said report at the time and place named in the rule

After the service and return of such rule it shall be lawful for the contractor to file a statement in the court of common pleas of Dauphin County upon the contract made by him with the Commonwealth and thereupon to proceed to trial in like manner as if in an action had been commenced by him upon such contract against the Commonwealth

Section 12 Partial payments on the contract shall be made from time to time to the contractor as the work progresses upon estimates made by the superintendent of construction setting forth the relative value of work done and by him approved at the time of estimate as compared with the total contract price all such estimates however shall be approved by a majority of the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings before payment is made At no time before the completion of the work and final approval thereof by the court shall any payments be made in excess of eighty per centum of the estimated value of work done and approved by the superintendent of construction If by the report of the inspectors it appears that said bridge has been built in conformity with the terms of the contract and specifications and such report is approved by the court payment shall be made of all the contract price not previously paid Upon approval of any estimate by the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings or upon the approval by the court of the report of the inspectors stating that the bridge has been built in conformity with the terms of the contract as the case may be it shall be the duty of the Auditor General to draw his warrant upon the State Treasurer in accordance with the foregoing The warrant shall be payable out of any appropriation made to the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings for the purpose of the rebuilding of bridges by the Commonwealth

In the event that by the report of said inspectors it is made to appear that deductions should be made from the contract price and such report is acquiesced in by the contractor or the amount of the contract price owing is finally determined by the court in the manner hereinbefore provided it shall be the duty of the Auditor General in like manner to draw his warrant for such such as shall appear to be owing exclusive of any payments that have been previously made which warrant shall be payable likewise out of any appropriation made to the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings for the purpose of rebuilding bridges by the Commonwealth

Section 13 The fees and expenses to be allowed the viewers or inspectors and the proper charges for the preparation of the plans and specifications of such bridge the superintending of construction of the same the costs of all legal proceedings and all other costs and expenses whatsoever shall be paid by the county in which the bridge is located and the amount of such charges costs and expenses herein provided for shall be fixed by the court of common pleas of Dauphin county according to the circumstances of the case upon notice of the county commissioners

Section 14 Until otherwise by law provided all bridges erected under the provisions of this act shall be maintained and kept in good repair by the county in which the same may be located

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MALLORY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clinton (Mr. Quigley) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. MALLORY. Mr. Speaker, as I understand this bill, it contemplates the taking over by the State of all county bridges over eight hundred feet in length, lying wholly within a county which have been destroyed by fire. Is that a correct interpretation of the bill?

Mr. QUIGLEY. Yes sir.

Mr. MALLORY. I would like to ask the gentleman how far back this bill is intended to retroact.

Mr. QUIGLEY. I imagine all bridges proviously burned in any locality.

Mr. MALLORY. Then the act is to retroact indefinitely to all bridges that have been burned, over streams which require bridges of over eight hundred feet in length, and which lie wholly within the county?

Mr. QUIGLEY. Yes sir.

Mr. MALLORY. I would like to ask the gentleman if my understanding is correct that this bill would not apply to a bridge that was eight hundred feet in length, with one end of that span was in one county and the other end in another?

Mr. QUIGLEY. Not the way the bill is drawn.

Mr. MALLORY. It would not apply to a bridge of that kind?

Mr. QUIGLEY. No sir.

Mr. MALLORY. Now, under the facts as you have presented them, do you not think that this particular bill is special legislation, intended only to relieve that particular condition and not to help anybody else that might have occasion to ask for help of a similar character?

Mr. QUIGLEY. I think it would be a general act and would apply to all the counties in the State.

Mr. MALLORY. Provided they had bridges which had already been burned and which lie wholly within the county?

Mr. QUIGLEY. I think that is the case.

Mr. MALLORY. Then it would not apply if the bridge did not lie wholly within the county? It would not apply to a bridge that had one end in one county and the other end in another county?

Mr. QUIGLEY. It would not.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1121, as follows:

An Act relating to fires and fire protection imposing duties and conferring powers heretofore exercised by the State Fire Marshal upon the Department of State Police constituting the Chiefs of Fire Departments and certain public officers as assistants to said department and defining their powers and duties providing for the investigation of the cause origin and circumstance of fires and the inspection of all and the removal or change of certain buildings imposing duties on school authorities and on certain corporations associations and fire rating agencies providing for the attendance of witnesses before the department and the enforcement of its orders and prescribing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the chief of the fire department in any county city borough township school district or other municipality or incorporated district where such fire department is established or where no such fire department exists the burgess of any borough or president or chairman of the board of supervisors of any township or other municipality or incorporated district shall be by virtue of such office held by them assistants to the Department of State Police in the enforcement of this act and subject to the duties and obligations imposed by this act and subject to the directions of the Department of State Police in the execution of the provisions hereof The Department of State Police may also appoint individual citizens as assistants who shall be subject to the duties and obligations aforesaid and to the directions of the Department of State Police The Department of State Police shall prepare instructions and forms for their use and that of their assistants in the reports required by this act and shall cause them to be printed and sent together with a copy of this law to each such officer in the Commonwealth

Section 2 The assistants of the Department of State Police shall investigate the cause origin and circumstances of every fire occurring in this State by which life or property has been destroyed damaged or endangered and so far as possible shall determine whether the fire was the result of design or carelessness Such investigation shall be begun immediately upon the occurrence of the fire by the assistant in whose territory it has occurred and if it appears to the assistant making such investigation to be of suspicious origin the Department of State Police shall be immediately notified of such fact Every fire occurring in this State shall be reported in writing to the Department of State Police within ten days after its occurrence by the assistant in whose jurisdiction it occurred Such report shall be in the form prescribed by the Department of State Police and shall contain a statement of all facts relating to the cause and origin of such fire that can be ascertained the extent of damage thereof the insurance upon the property injured or destroyed and such other information as may be required Provided however That the duties to be performed by the assistants to the Department of State Police may be limited by the Department of State Police so as to reasonably accord with their preexisting public duties

Section 3 The Department of State Police or its assistants upon the complaint of any person or whenever it or they shall deem it necessary shall inspect the buildings and premises within their jurisdiction Whenever any of the said officers shall find any buildings or structures which for want of repairs or by reason of age or dilapidated condition or any other cause is especially liable to fire and so situated as to endanger other property it or they shall order the same to be removed or remedied if the same is reasonably practicable thereby lessening the danger from fire Whenever such officer shall find in any building combustible or explosive matter or inflammable conditions which are in violation of any law or ordinance applicable thereto or are dangerous to the safety of such buildings thereby endangering other property it or they shall order the same to be removed or remedied and such order shall forthwith be complied with by the owner or occupant of such premises or building If such order is made by the Department of State Police or its assistants such owner or occupant may within five days appeal to the department of State Police which shall within ten days review such order and file its decision thereon and unless by its authority the order is revoked or modified it shall remain in full force and be obeyed by such owner or occupant Provided however That any such owner or occupant who feels himself aggrieved by such order may within five days after the same has been affirmed by the Department of State Police file his petition with the court of common pleas of the proper county praying a review of such order and it shall be the duty of the court to hear the same at the first convenient day and to make such order in the premises as right and justice may require

Any owner or occupant failing to comply with such order within ten days after said appeal shall have been determined or if no appeal is taken then within twenty days after the service of said order shall be liable to a penalty of twenty-five dollars for each day's neglect thereafter The service of any such order shall be made upon the occupant of the premises to whom it is directed by either delivering a true copy of same to such occupant personally or by delivering the same to and leaving it with any person in charge of the premises or in case no such person is found upon the premises by affixing a copy thereof in a conspicuous place on the door to the entrance of the said premises Whenever it may be necessary to serve such an order upon the owner of premises such order may be served either by delivering to and leaving with the said person a true copy of the said order of if such owner is absent from the jurisdiction of the officer making the order by mailing such copy to the owner's last known postoffice address The penalties herein provided may be recovered as debts are by law collectible in any courts having jurisdiction of the parties Such action shall be brought in the name of the Commonwealth under the direction of the Department of State Police or its assistants by the Attorney General or by any district attorney or legally constituted law officer of any county city borough township or other municipality who may be designated by the Attorney General or at the option of the Attorney General he may designate any attorney to bring such action

Section 4 The Department of State Police or its assistants in addition to the investigation made by any of the assistants may at any time investigate the origin or circumstances of any fire occurring in this Commonwealth The Department of State Police or its assistants shall have the power to summon witnesses and compel them to attend before them or either of them and to testify in relation to any matter which is by the provisions of this act a subject of inquiry and investigation and may require the production of any books papers or documents deemed pertinent or necessary to the inquiry and shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to any person appearing as a witness before them such examination may be public or private as the officers conducting the investigation may determine

No person shall be excused from attending before the said Department of State Police or its assistants when summoned so to attend nor when ordered so to do shall he be excused from testifying or producing any books papers or documents before such Department upon any investigation proceeding or inquiry instituted under the provisions of this act upon the ground or for the reason that the testimony or the evidence documentary or otherwise required of him may tend to convict him of a crime or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture but no person shall be prosecuted or subjected to a penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction matter or thing concerning which he may have been required so to testify or produce evidence documentary or otherwise and no testimony so given or produced shall be received against him upon any criminal investigation or proceedings If after any such examination the Department of State Police or any of its assistants is of the opinion that the facts in relation to such fire indicate that a crime has been committed it or he shall present the testimony taken on such examination together with any other data in his possession to the district attorney of the proper county with the request that they institute such criminal proceedings as such testimony or data may warrant

The Department of State Police or its assistants may at all reasonable hours enter any building or premises within its or their jurisdiction for the purpose of making an inspection which under the provisions of this act it or they may deem necessary to be made

Section 5 Any witness who refuses to obey a summons of the Department of State Police or its assistants or who refuses to be sworn or to testify or who disobeys any lawful order of the Department of State Police or its assistants in relation to any investigation instituted by it or them or who fails or refuses to produce any books papers or documents touching any matter under investigation or examination or who is guilty of any contempt after being summoned to appear before it or any of them to give testimony in relation to any matter or subject under examination or investigation as aforesaid may be punished as for contempt of court For this purpose application may be made to any court within whose jurisdiction the contempt in question took place and for which purpose the courts of common pleas of this Commonwealth are hereby given jurisdiction

Section 6 The Department of State Police shall keep in its office all records which may be sent it in accordance with the law relative to the physical condition of buildings whether the laws and ordinances have been complied with so far as the same relate to fire protection records of application for fire insurance upon any buildings or other information relating thereto which may be sent it in compliance with law and shall also keep a record of all fires occurring in this State and of all the facts concerning the same including statistics as to the extent of such fires and the damage caused thereby and whether such losses were covered by insurance and if so in what amount Such records shall be made daily from the reports made to it by its assistants under the provisions of this Act All such records shall be public except that any testimony taken in investigations under the provisions of this act may be withheld from the public in the discretion of the Department of State Police

It shall be the duty of the Department of State Police to prepare blank forms for the furnishing of information by owners or occupants of buildings throughout the Commonwealth of the condition of such buildings with regard to fire protection The said blanks shall contain notice to such property owners or occupiers of proper rules and regulations to minimize the danger of fire and to suppress fire waste and shall contain certain questions requesting information of a definite character to show the condition of the buildings as aforesaid These blank forms shall be furnished by the Department of State Police to officers whose duty it is to receipt for taxes on real property in every part of the Commonwealth to be given by them to property owners together with their tax bills (two forms for each property) with the requirements that one properly filled out be forwarded to the Department of State Police at once for filing among the records of its office and that the other be so forwarded six months thereafter

Section 7 It shall be the duty of the Department of State Police to prepare in consultation with the Superintendent of Public Instruction books of instruction for use in the public and private schools of students of all grades with regard to the dangers of fire and the prevention of fire waste It shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and of the principals or other persons in charge of the various schools of this Commonwealth to provide for the instruction and training of pupils of such schools by means of drills so that they may in sudden emergencies be able to leave the school buildings in the shortest possible time without confusion or panic Such drills shall be held at least once a month when the schools are in session Books of instruction with regard to the dangers of fire and the prevention of fire waste as above specified shall be published at the expense of the State under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and shall be distributed in sufficient quantities for the use of the schools as herein provided and the curriculum of such schools shall include some regular and continuous study of such subjects during the entire school year

Section 8 The Department of State Police shall make an annual report to the Governor of the Commonwealth on or before the first day of February of each year setting forth a full report of the work of its office during the preceding calendar year including such statistics as it may desire to include therein The said Department of State Police shall also recommend in its report such legislation if any as in its judgment may be desirable to further carry out the purpose of this law for the prevention of fire waste

Section 9 The assistants to the Department of State Police not receiving a salary for the performance of public duties shall receive upon the audit of the said Department of State Police fifty cents for each report of each separate fire reported to the Department of State Police under this act and in addition thereto shall be paid the sum of fifteen cents for each mile traveled to the place of fire and in the discretion of the Department of State Police where an investigation has been made a sum not to exceed three ($3) dollars for each day's service spent in such investigation

Section 10 All penalties or forfeitures collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the treasury of this Commonwealth

Section 11 That it shall be the duty of every corporation or association whether domestic or foreign incorporated or authorized to transact the business of fire insurance within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to report in writing to the Department of State Police through the secretary or other officer of the corporation or association designated by the board of directors for that purpose of all fire losses on property within this State insured by such corporation or association giving the date and location of fire the amount of insurance written on such risk by said corporation or association the amount of probable loss the character of property destroyed or damaged and the supposed cause of the fire Such reports shall be in writing and sent by registered mail to the Department of State Police addressed to its office in the city of Harrisburg on or before the tenth day of each month as to all fires of which notice was received during the preceding month and shall include either in the first or subsequent monthly report the amount of loss as adjusted and actually paid by said corporation or association for on account of or by reason of such loss Provided That in all cases where such corporation or association receives evidence or information indicating that any fire was of incendiary origin report of such fire and of such evidence or information shall be immediately mailed to the said Department of State Police as aforesaid Such notices and reports shall be in addition to any notice or report said companies may be required to make under the laws of this Commonwealth to the Insurance Commissioner or to any other State officer

Section 12 Every board association or bureau which now exists or hereafter may be formed for the purpose of suggesting establishing or maintaining rates of fire insurance on property located in this State shall supply to the Department of State Police on request or permit the Department of State Police to copy from its files reasonable data relating to the physical condition of insurable property in this State and relating to physical fire hazards in the various communities thereof

Section 13 Any fire insurance company or association wilfully violating any of the provisions of this act shall be liable to a penalty of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) to be recovered at the suit of the Department of State Police as debts of like amount are now by law recoverable and any foreign fire insurance company or association licensed to do business in this Commonwealth wilfully violating any of the provisions of this act shall in addition to incurring said penalty forfeit its right to continue the transaction of its business in this State

Section 14 Upon approval of this act all books records and other documents now in possession and custody of the State Fire Marshal shall be transferred to the Department of State Police

Section 15 This act shall not be construed to repeal an act of the General Assembly entitled "An Act to provide for the appointment of a fire marshal for Allegheny county" approved the eighteenth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and sixty-five) It is further hereby declared to be the true intent and meaning of this act that the same shall not apply or be operative in any city or county of this Commonwealth where under existing laws whether special or general the position and duties of a fire marshal are provided for

Section 16 That all rules and regulations promulgated by the State Fire Marshal and now in force shall continue in force until modified or abolished by the Department of State Police

Section 17 The act of June third Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act establishing the office of State Fire Marshal defining his powers and duties providing for his compensation and the maintenance of his office giving courts the power to punish witnesses for contempt of his authority and to review his orders and making it the duty of officers of public instruction and persons in charge of public or private schools to instruct children as to the dangers of fire and the prevention of fire waste" and the act of June twelfth Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled "A supplement to an act entitled "An Act establishing the office of State Fire Marshal defining his powers and duties providing for his compensation and the maintenance of his office giving courts the power to punish witnesses for contempt of his authority and to review orders and making it the duty of officers of public instruction and persons in charge of public and private schools to instruct children as to the dangers of fire and the prevention of fire waste' approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven making it the duty of every fire insurance company or association doing business in this State to give certain notices and make certain reports to the State Fire Marshal with relation to fire losses on property in Pennsylvania and of any rating bureau to furnish information to said State Fire Marshal and providing a penalty for the violation of this act" be and the same are hereby repealed and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

Section 18 The provisions of this act shall take effect on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from page 10 of to-day's calendar House Bill No. 993, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from postponed calendar by Mr. Powell,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 993, entitled

An Act to amend section thirteen of an act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and seventy-two) entitled "An Act to provide for the protection and preservation of game game-quadrupeds and game-birds and song and insectivorous and other wild birds and prescribing penalties for violation of its several provisions."

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, this House has built a splendid reputation during this session for the preservation of the Sabbath. These are days when we are passing through a period of reconstruction. We all realize how essential it is that we give every care to economic reconstruction, but, gentlemen, we are passing through a period of moral reconstruction, and I say to you that it is equally as important that we should be careful of the accomplishments along the lines of moral reconstruction as it is that we be careful of economic reconstruction. This is just one more of those bills that attempts to strike down the sanctity of the Sabbath, and the observation of the Sabbath, which is protected by the laws of the State of Pennsylvania possibly better than by the laws of any other Commonwealth in this nation. We should by all means, gentlemen, continue to vote as we have voted thus far this session, and avoid the possible weakening of any law that is intended to protect the Sabbath. I trust that this bill which provides for the chasing of game—presumably the exercising of dogs, but which in reality provides for the chasing of game on the Sabbath—and you gentlemen who have lived or do now live in the rural sections know just exactly what that means, and it is not necessary for me to do any more than call it to your attention—I trust that this bill will be voted down by the House.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I ask the House to vote down this bill for just four reasons: first, it violates the sanctity of the Sabbath; second, it offends the religious sense of the people of the State of Pennsylvania; third, it opens the door to many more bills of a similar character; fourth, it puts the stamp of approval of the State of Pennsylvania upon an annoying violation of the Sabbath day. It will bring up a howling demonstration on Sunday that we ought to avoid.

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: If there is one subject I desire to speak on more than another it is that which would protect the Sabbath day. There are two or three things which strike me in this bill which I would like to take up. We all recognize, I think we have all found out,—but we would not from the caption of the bill—that this bill refers to the Sabbath day. It looks like a bill intended to protect birds, pheasants, and so on. That is simply camouflage. I say that is deception to start with. Now if you will notice in the bill as presented one little slip was made when they prepared this bill. You will notice it said "chasing of." Now someone got to reading that over and found it did not look well. So they put smoother language in it and cut out the word "chasing" and made it read, "purpose of training them on game on Sunday." The words were plainer before. It came to me that this might be for fox chasing, and a good sportsman does not chase foxes with a gun; he chases them with a dog. We go out for bear or deer with a gun, but for fox chasing we would not take a gun; we chase them with a dog. It is evident that this bill is meant to legalize fox chasing on Sunday. At any rate, the caption of the bill is not fairly indicative of the bill. In the next place, the changes that already have been made in the bill indicate a case of covering up the real purpose of the bill. I believe all in this House recognize the importance of maintaining the present standard of Sabbath day observance, and I think by all means we should recognize that this is purely a bill to break down our Sabbath laws and should be defeated.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I would like to explain to the members the purpose of this bill. I assure that there is no intent by the sponsor of this bill, as charged by the speakers, to desecrate the seventh day of the week, or the first day of the week as some call it, commonly known as Sunday. It might be a surprise to the gentlemen who have already spoken to know that it is lawful within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania today to hunt fox on Sunday; and furthermore it is lawful to take a gun on Sunday and kill a fox. I do not think that the gentlemen are acquainted with the provisions that are within the game laws. The purpose of this bill, gentlemen, is just for this one solitary feature, which I hope and trust you will consider, and see if I am not speaking the truth. In the county of Chester, during the year 1918, there were not less than nine different arrests caused by the game wardens of that county charging the owners of dogs with violating the game laws, to wit, the chasing of game on Sunday. They were taken before a magistrate, and the magistrate imposed a penalty of twenty-five dollars and costs, amounting to twenty-eight dollars and some odd cents. This aroused the people within Chester County to the extend that they took up a public subscription to pay the fines of the men so charged. You have a farmer who is the owner of a shephard dog, and there are I believe, a number of members of this House who are farmers. You can so construe the game law that if a man, the owner of a dog, would go out for the purpose of taking in his cattle, and that dog got away from him and would chase the game, and the only game he could track would be deer, bear, elk, or rabbits; if that dog was so seen chasing either one of the game so mentioned the owner would be liable to a fine the maximum of which would be twenty-five dollars. On the other hand, to show the inconsistency, you can take the very same dog and lawfully take and hunt fox; and further you can go within the house and get your gun and go out and shoot and kill the said fox within the laws. To bear that statement out, I will read to you from the game laws of Pennsylvania, on page 14:

"It is, therefore, not a violation of the game laws of this State to shoot on Sunday at targets, or at a mark, or at a crow, or at a hawk, or at a fox, or any other thing not protected by the game laws of this State."

Gentlemen, this amendment to the code simply provides this, that if a man so sees fit to take his dog to the woods on Sunday, and if that dog shall suddenly come upon the tracks of some game animal, he would not be violating the game law. That is the only purpose of this bill. I am sorry there is such a misunderstanding among the members.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: as chairman of the Game Committee, I would like to state that when this bill was under discussion, there were quite a few members in the committee had the same notion of it that some of the members of the House have already expressed, that it was an attempt to legalize fox chasing on Sunday. I have been a sportsman ever since I was a kid sixteen years old, and have spent almost every season in the woods in hunting, and I enjoy it; and I have consistently voted in this House, both this session and two years ago, against any attempt to open up the Sabbath, and against any attempt to break down the old Blue Laws. I think I have as high a regard for the Sabbath as any man in this House. I am surprised that so many people have forgotten this mistaken idea of it. It only applies to Sabbaths during the hunting season. Any man who understands hunting, especially with bird dogs, or rabbit dogs, knows what it means to the hunter to have his dog hardened before he takes it out. I have my dogs in good shape when I leave for the woods, and I keep them in my kennels, for if the dogs get out they are liable to be run over by an automobile or a street car and killed. Those dogs need proper exercises to keep them in good condition, and it is necessary to have them hardened before they go into the woods. You take a dog out on a leash and he may break off of the leash and get away. If you take him out in the country and let him go he gets the right kind of exercise, and that is all that this bill will permit you to do.

You take a man in the city and you fellows don't appreciate what a sportsmen enjoy in the country, what the life is to them, and what it is to their dogs to be able to get out. It does me more good, physically, to get in a woods for two or three hours, or two or three days, than I would get if I took a vacation at a summer resort for a month. The only thing this bill allows is for a man to take his dog out on Sunday. Is there any harm in a man taking a walk in the woods on Sunday with his dog? I cannot see it. Is there any harm in a man letting his dog go along if he wants to take a walk in the woods? You are not permitted to take a gun or to have a weapon in your possession. Under this amendment, it simply allows a man, if he wants to take a walk, to take his dog with him and for the necessary excercise that he might need, and I don't care whether they call it this or that, if it is not for hunting game. I don't care whether it is because that dog, if he sees a rabbit, will chase it, for if he sees one, he would chase it, and what harm is there in that? I have had one man raise objections because he thought that this was good for the whole year round. The bill only provides that they can take a dog out in the woods on Sunday, during the open season. Under the present law, the open season is from the twentieth of October to the fifteenth of December. In my mind, any man who is fair minded and who is not a skeptic should vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are also hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Speaker, I don't wish to take up the time of the House, but this bill is of such significance that it seems to me we should have it brought to bear upon our minds. I don't believe that it should be passed in a perfunctory way. This bill relates to the reorganization of the Agricultural Department. It is a bill that has been prepared by the Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Rasmussen. If there is any industry in our State that needs recognition, it is the industry of agriculture. It is one of the neglected industries of our State and also of our country. We did not recognize this until the war broke out. We began to recognize it prior to that time as food was advancing in price, month after month. But when the war broke out we realized that we were against one of the most serious problems that ever faced a country—the shortage of food. Friends, that is upon us to-day. Agriculture has been my prominent study. I have travelled over this country and looked upon it and it is up to us members of the country and members of the city—and more imperatively up to the members of the city—that we give heed to the agricultural interests of our State. Agriculture has been on the decline and food has become scarcer and scarcer, because, friends, we have unconsciously and short-sightedly legislated against agriculture in the past, and I'm speaking of the nation. We have discriminated against it. Has this ever dawned upon you, that the only free trade industry in America is agriculture? I have lived in the city a greater part of my life. In the city we get together and demand protection upon the industries and that is right, but at the same time we short-sightedly say, we must have cheap raiment, cheap food, and we establish protection on the city's industries and put it down on agriculture until we place it on a free trade basis. As a result of it, the young men left the farm and went to the city. Every discriminating meeting in the city for the reduction of the price of food eventually results in the raising of the price of food. Did you ever think of it? I left the farm and went to college because the farm did not offer the opportunities of the city, and it did not because it did not recognize the efforts of the farmer as it recognizes the industries of the city. Every time that you fail to give agriculture its due recognition, one more boy goes to the city and one more farmer goes to the city and the price of milk goes up, and meat goes up, and raiment goes up. You can learn something from Germany, friends. We are deploring Germany. I do almost every day. Germany with poorer soil than America, produces more per acre than we produce. For forty years she built up her steam industries and her agriculture. Her agriculture was placed on the same level as her other industries. If it had not been so, Germany would have been starved to death before the war was in progress two years. Let us give agriculture the same recognition in America and in the State of Pennsylvania that we do every other industry and put it on identically the same level, so that the farmer can make as good money on his investments as the city man. This is the only way that you can keep the country boy on the farm and keep food from going higher and higher. If we don't put it on the same level that we put the steel industry, the same process will continue. You have taken away from us our vocation and you know what the result will lead up to. I for one shall look after the industries and the interests of agriculture and if you don't consider that and keep, as Germany did, agriculture and steel industry on the same level, agriculture will continue to suffer, food will become scarcer and scarcer and your prices will go higher and higher. Another reason why agriculture will decline and is declining is this; the farmer has been made something of a joke. I left the farm because I didn't like to have people say that I was a country-Jake. Many of our cartoons, until recently, were made up of pictures of old hayseeds. Every time that I saw those pictures I said I did not want to stick in the country because I did not want to be laughed at ,because you met fellows who would say they would not be country-Jakes. In the country, on our old farm a few years ago, we established a Delco Light plant, and a city fellow established it. When we had it turned on, night was turned into day and our two hundred and fifty faces just turned and looked up and he said to me, "That is the prettiest sight I ever saw." Friends, it was a pretty sight and one of the finest looking crowds I have ever seen in my life until I faced this one.

And he said to me, "Jordan, the first thing you will have to do when these steers grow up,"—mind you, they were all steers—"the next thing you will have to buy," he says —and mind you he was city-born and they were all steers, "will be a milking machine." Now, let us get alive to this big industry, do not discriminate against it or legislate against it; but let us legislate for it. The agricultural interests of this State are great. How much did we produce last year in agriculture, do you think? Five hundred and thirty-nine million dollars worth in this State. We are first in the production of hay, so far as value is concerned, and second in the production of potatoes, so far as value is concerned. If we were to give the same interests to agriculture in our State that we do to steel, we would be fourth or fifth in the production of food-stuffs and wearing apparel.

I want to speak a word or two in favor of our Secretary of Agriculture who prepared this bill. He is broad-minded, good, fair and sensible, and he has eyes that look up and he has his feet on the earth and now let us give this bill a unanimous and hearty vote and thus give him an opportunity to make good, and I predict that he will make good. And I want to say to the Committee on Appropriations, when it comes to giving the State College her money to educate the young fellows in farming and engineering, do not be too niggardly. I travel all over the country and I have seen the State colleges all over the country, and when I went to our State College and saw their meager equipment I blushed for shame. Let us put our State College in a position so that it compares favorably with the University of Illinois, the University of Iowa, the University of Wisconsin and the University of Minnesota, and then let us produce at home our own food. Do not go to trying to put a maximum price on food. If you do you will put it up so far that you will not be able to reach it.

I have said all this so that we will vote unanimously and heartily for our stomachs sake to-day.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the years and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:,

Vol. 5. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23, 1919. No. 38.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, April 23, 1919.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Clarence J. Buckman) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for all the blessings of life. We realize that every good and perfect gift cometh from Thee. We believe that all things work together for good to those who daily walk in the paths of righteousness. Help us to dedicate ourselves to the great purpose of so living from day to day that we may have a conscience void of offense both toward God and man. Help us to follow in the footsteps of those men of whom it was said:

"The lives of great men all remind us,
We can make our lives sublime;
And departing, leave behind us,
Foot-prints in the sands of time."

These favors we ask in our Saviour's name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceeding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceeding session, when, on motion of Mr. WOODWARD, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 344, as follows;

An Act to quiet the title of real estate by providing that the sale of real estate of any bankrupt or insolvent debtor shall pass the title of such real estate freed from any claims for or rights to any statutory interest inchoate of the spouse of the bankrupt or insolvent debtor

Whereas The statutes of the United States relating to bankruptcy and the statutes of this State relating to insolvency are not so phrased as to make it evident beyond a doubt that the statutory interest inchoate of a spouse of an insolvent debtor is divested when his or her interest or title or to any real estate is sold according to due legal procedure by a receiver trustee or assignee duly chosen according to law to administer the estate of the insolvent debtor for the benefit of his or her creditors therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever a receiver trustee or assignee who has been chosen according to law to administer the estate of a debtor duly adjudicated as a bankrupt in accordance with the statutes of the United States relating to bankruptcy shall sell according to due legal procedure the interest or title in or to any real estate of such bankrupt and such sale shall be duly confirmed by a court having jurisdiction to confirm such sale or whenever a receiver trustee or assignee of an insolvent debtor who has under the statutes of this State been duly chosen to administer the estate of said insolvent debtor for the benefit of his or her creditors shall sell the interest or title in or to any real estate of said insolvent debtor according to procedure authorized by the statutes of this State and such sale shall be confirmed by a court of competent jurisdiction or otherwise perfected in accordance with statutes of this State then the statutory interest inchoate of the spouse of such bankrupt or insolvent debtor shall be fully and completely divested and full and complete title and ownership freed from any claims or rights of the spouse of the bankrupt or insolvent debtor shall be vested in the purchaser of the said interest or title in or to the said real estate

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 377 (House Bill No. 566), as follows:

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 733, as follows:

An Act providing for the condemnation by the Commonwealth of lands suitable and desirable for forestry purposes and defining the powers and duties of the Department of Forestry or the Department of Conservation in relation thereto.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same That whenever the State Forestry Reservation Commission or the Commission of Conservation desires to acquire any suitable and desirable for forestry purposes for the use and benefit of the State as forestry lands and a price for such lands cannot be agreed upon with the owner or owners thereof or where such owner or owners cannot be found in all such cases the Department of Forestry or the Department of Conservation is authorized to acquire the said lands by condemnation

Section 2. The commissioner of forestry or the commissioner of conservation on behalf of the Commonwealth may enter upon any of such lands and take possession thereof Thereupon the commissioner of forestry or the commissioner of conservation through the Attorney General or any of the owners if known may apply to the court of common pleas of the county wherein such lands are located for the appointment of viewers The court shall appoint three viewers and shall appoint a time not less than twenty nor more than thirty days after the presentation of such petition when the viewers shall meet upon the lands and view the same and all improvements in connection therewith

Section 3 The viewers shall give at least ten days notice of their first meeting to the commissioner of forestry or the commissioner of conservation and to the Attorney General and to the owners of such land if known If the owners of such lands are unknown notice shall be given in at least two newspapers in such manner as the court may direct The viewers having been sworn or affirmed faithfully justly and impartially to decide and a true report to make concerning all matters to be submitted to them and in relation to which they are authorized to inquire and having viewed the lands and premises shall hear the parties and their witnesses and shall estimate and determine the value of the property so taken Where the owner of such lands and premises is unknown the viewers shall estimate and determine the value of the land and improvements upon the testimony of the witnesses for the Commonwealth and any witnesses called by the viewers

Section 4 The viewers shall prepare their report and shall give at least ten days written notice of a time and place where they will meet and exhibit their report and hear all exceptions thereto If any owners of said lands are unknown notice shall be given in two newspapers in the same manner as the notice of their first meeting was given

Section 5 After making whatever changes are necessary the viewers shall report to court showing the damages allowed and if necessary shall also file a plan showing the property taken In all cases where the owners are known the report shall also state to whom the damages are payable In cases where the owners of the property are not known that fact shall be clearly stated in the report

Section 6 When the report is filed notice thereof shall immediately be given to the commissioner of forestry or the commissioner of conservation the Attorney General and the owners of the land where known which notice shall state that unless exceptions be filed thereto within thirty days after the filing of the report the same will be confirmed absolutely Where any owners of such lands are unknown notice shall be given in at least two newspapers in such manner as the court shall direct

Section 7 Within thirty days after the filing of any report the Commonwealth or the owners of such lands may file exceptions to the same and the court shall confirm modify or change such report or refer the same back to the same or new viewers

Section 8 When the report is filed the prothonotary shall mark it "confirmed nisi" In case no exceptions are filed thereto within the time herein specified the court shall make a decree that the report is confirmed absolutely which decree shall be entered by the prothonotary

Section 9 Within thirty days after any report of viewers is filed under this act the Commonwealth or the owners of such land may appeal to the court of common pleas and demand a trial by jury Within six months after a confirmation absolute on exceptions or within six months after a verdict and final judgment on appeal for a jury trial the commissioner of forestry or the commissioner of conservation or the owners of such land may appeal to the supreme or to the superior court as in other cases

Section 10 When the amount payable to the owner of such land has been finally determined the same shall be paid by the commissioner of forestry or the commissioner of conservation from the appropriations that may be made for such purposes all costs in connection with any such proceedings shall be paid by the Commonwealth

Section 11 When the owners of such lands are unknown the commissioner of forestry or the commissioner of conservation may enter upon and appropriate the land for the use of the State as herein provided In all cases where the owners of lands are unknown and the report of viewers has been finally confirmed the Commonwealth shall be liable for all damages awarded therein If at any time after the final confirmation of the report of viewers any person appears and proves title to said lands such person shall be entitled to and receive from the Commonwealth the sum so awarded by the viewers Any such claimant of the land may petition the court of common pleas of the county wherein the land is located giving a brief outline of the facts upon which the claim is based Thereupon the court shall direct an issue to be framed wherein the claimant shall appear as plaintiff and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as defendant Such issue shall be tried according to the rules of procedure and evidence governing trials in ejectment with a right of appeal by either party to the proper appellate court If the final judgment on such issue is in favor of the plaintiff the sum awarded by the report as finally confirmed shall be paid by the Commonwealth to said claimant The party to the action against whom the judgment is entered shall be liable for the costs as provided by law in other civil actions.

Section 12 The Department of Forestry or the Department of Conservation of the Commonwealth shall have the control and supervision of all such lands acquired under the provisions of this act All income and revenue derived from said lands shall be expended in the same manner and for the same purposes as provided by law for the expenditures of the income from the State forests

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I move to amend by inserting after section 1 the following section 2:

Section 2. That section eleven of said act which reads as follows

"Section 11. As soon as a voter is admitted within the rail in the voting-room, at the time of a primary, the election officer having charge of the ballots shall detach one of said non-partisan primary ballots from the stub and give it to the voter, but shall first fold it as required by law. If the voter is entitled to receive a party ballot he shall receive it at the same time he receives the non-partisan primary ballot. Not more than one non-partisan primary ballot shall be given to a voter: Provided, however, That where a voter inadverently spoils a non-partisan primary ballot, he may obtain another as provided by the law, first returning the spoiled ballot, which shall be cancelled, preserved, and returned as in like cases at elections.

The voter shall mark said non-partisan primary ballot and deposit it in the ballot-box at the same time he marks and deposits the party ballot, if any.

The ballot check list and the voting check list at primaries shall have separate columns for party ballots and non-partisan primary ballots, and the officers or clerks keeping such lists shall make separate checks or notations for each class of ballots as they are issued and deposited.

When, after the closing of the polls at a primary, the ballots are taken from the ballot-box, the election officers shall, after counting and making a record of the number of ballots for each party, count the number of non-partisan primary ballots cast, and make a record thereof; and, after counting the vote cast for the different persons named on the party ballots and making a record thereof, shall count the vote cast for the different persons named on the non-partisan primary ballots and make a record thereof; and when said count is finally completed they shall certify, in due and proper form, to the number of votes cast for each person upon the non-partisan primary ballots in addition to certifying the party vote as provided by law. The non-partisan primary ballots and their stubs, and the unused non-partisan ballots, shall be disposed of in the same way as the party ballots, stubs, and unusued ballots are disposed of according to law; and the returns of non-partisan votes and register of voters shall be placed in envelopes, sealed, kept, and deposited with the county commissioners, and the returns by them computed and canvassed—all as provided by law with respect to party registers and returns," is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 11. Any qualified elector who shall ask for, and who is entitled to receive, a party ballot, shall be given the party ballot to which he is entitled, which shall contain the non-partisan primary ballot as provided for in this act and shall not receive any separate non-partisan primary ballot. Any qualified elector who desires to vote only or is entitled to receive only a non-partisan primary ballot shall be given a separate non-partisan primary ballot, and no other ballot. Not more than one non-partisan primary ballot shall be given to a voter: Provided, however, That where a voter inadverently spoils a non-partisan primary ballot, he may obtain another as provided by law, first returning the spoiled ballot, which shall be cancelled, preserved, and returned as in like cases at elections.

The voter shall mark said non-partisan primary ballot and deposit it in the ballot-box at the same time he marks and deposits the party ballot, if any.

The ballot check list and the voting check list at primaries shall have separate columns for party ballots and non-partisan primary ballots, and the officers or clerks keeping such lists shall make separate checks or notations for each class of ballots as they are issued and deposited.

When, after the closing of the polls at a primary, the ballots are taken from the ballot-box, the election officers shall after counting and making a record of the number of ballots for each party, count the number of non-partisan ballots cast, and make a record thereof; and, after counting the vote cast for the different persons named on the party ballots and making a record thereof, shall count the vote cast for the different persons named on the non-partisan primary ballots and make a record thereof; and when said count is finally completed they shall certify in due and proper form, to the number of votes cast for each person upon the non-partisan primary ballots, in addition to certifying the party vote as provided by law. All votes cast for any non-partisan candidate on the non-partisan ballot which is printed on the regular party ballots shall be counted and added to the votes cast for such candidate on the separate non-partisan primary ballots, and the total thus obtained shall be certified by the election officers together with the record of the party vote, as herein provided.

If he desires to vote for every candidate of a political party he may make a crossmark in the appropriate square opposite the name of the party of his choice in the straight party column on the left of the ballot and every such cross-mark shall be equivalent to a vote for every candidate for the party so marked If he desires to vote for an entire group of Presidential electors he may place a cross-mark in the appropriate square at the right of the name of the party of his choice If he desires to divide his vote among candidates from different groups of Presidential electors he shall make a cross-mark in the appropriate square to the right of the name of each candidate for Presidential elector for whom he desires to vote Provided That a mark in the straight party column be counted as a mark of the party of his choice shall also be counted as a mark for each Presidential elector nominated by such party

He may vote according to the above provisions for the candidate of his choice for each office to be filled according to the number of persons to be voted for by him for each office or he may insert in the blank space provided therefor in accordance with section fourteen of this act any name not already on the ballot And in case of a question submitted to the vote of the people he may mark in the appropriate margin or space a cross (x) opposite the answer which he desires to give In all cases whereby existing laws a voter is entitled to cast more than one vote for a single candidate he shall place in the appropriate square instead of a cross (x) a number which shall indicate the number of votes to be counted for the candidate whose name is so marked Before leaving the voting self or compartment the voter shall fold his ballot without displaying the marking thereon in the same way it was folded when received by him and he shall keep the same so folded and deposit it in the ballot box without undue delay and shall quit the enclosed space immediately thereafter" be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows

Section 22 On receipt of his ballot the voter shall forthwith and without leaving the space enclosed by the guard-rail retire to one of the voting shelves or compartments and draw a curtain or shut the screen or door and shall then prepare his ballot as follows

He may vote for the candidate or candidates of his choice for each office to be filled according to the number of persons to be voted for by him for each office by placing a cross-mark (x) in the appropriate square at the right of the name of each person of his choice or he may insert in the blank space or spaces provided therefor in accordance with section fourteen of this act any name or names not already on the ballot Provided That he shall not mark or insert in the aggregate the names of more persons than he is entitled to vote for for each office and Provided Also that a cross-mark (x) in the appropriate square opposite the name of any political party or body of electors in the first column at the left of the ballot shall always be counted as a straight party ballot and as a mark for every candidate nominated by such party or body of electors including each candidate thereof whose name has been marked individually as aforesaid unless the voter has also marked or inserted the name of any person or persons nominated by any other party or body of electors in which case the ballot shall be void as to any office for which the voter has so attempted to vote contrary to his mark in the party square unless being entitled to vote for more candidates for such office than the number of those of such other party or body of electors for whom he has so attempted to split his vote he has also properly marked the names of particular candidates of the party of his choice not exceeding in number the remaining places in such office for which he is entitled to vote in which latter case the ballot shall also be counted for such particular candidates of such party so marked as well as for the nominees of such party for all other offices not affected by any such conflict.

If the voter desires to vote for an entire group of Presidential electors he may place a cross-mark (x) in the appropriate square at the right of the name of the party of his choice at the head of such group but if he desires to divide his vote among candidates from different groups of Presidential electors he shall make a cross-mark (x) in the appropriate square to the right of the name of each candidate for Presidential elector for whom he desires to vote Provided That a mark in the straight party column opposite the name of the party of his choice shall also be counted as a mark for each Presidential elector nominated by such party whether accompanied or not by any cross-mark (x) in the appropriate square at the right of the name of such party at the head of its group of Presidential electors or by any cross-mark (x) at the right of the names of any of its candidates individually unless the water shall have also marked or inserted the name of any candidate for Presidential elector who is not on the ticket of such party in which case the ballot shall be counted for any candidates of such party whose names have been properly marked individually as aforesaid if they do not exceed in number the places remaining to be filled in such group of Presidential electors besides those for which he has attempted to vote in conflict with his mark in either party square aforesaid and respecting which the ballot shall be void

In all cases whereby the existing laws a voter is entitled to cast more than one vote for a single candidate he shall place in the appropriate square instead of a cross-mark (x) a number which shall indicate the number of votes to be counted for the candidate whose name is so marked And in case of a question submitted to the vote of the people he may place in the appropriate margin or space a cross-mark (x) opposite the answer which he desires to give or write in the word "yes" or "no"

At the head of every ballot shall be printed the following instruction in additions to any otherwise required by law

"If any voter marks a cross-mark (x) in any party square in the straight party column he may not vote for any person for any office who is not a nominee of such party for such office except in the non-partisan column If the voter marks his ballot for more candidates for any office than he is entitled to vote for his ballot shall not be counted for such office"

Before leaving the voting shelf or compartment the voter shall fold his ballot without displaying the marking thereon in the same way it was folded when received by him and he shall keep the same so folded and deposit it in the ballot box without undue delay and shall quit the enclosed space immediately thereafter

Section 2 That section twenty-seven of the aforesaid act which as amended reads as follows

"Section 27 If a voter has marked his ballot otherwise than as directed by this act so that for any reason it is impossible to determine the voter's choice for any office to be filled his ballot shall not be counted for such office but the ballot shall be counted for all other offices for which the names of candidates have been properly marked

No ballot without the official endorsement shall except as herein otherwise provided be allowed to be deposited in the ballot-box and none but ballots provided in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be counted Ballots not marked or improperly or defectively marked shall be endorsed as defective but shall be preserved with the other ballots If any ballot appears to have been obtained otherwise than as provided in this act the judge of election shall transmit such ballot to the district attorney without delay together with whatever information he may have tending to the detection of the person who deposited the same" shall be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 27 If a voter has marked or inserted the names of more candidates for any office than he is entitled to vote for or if it is impossible to determine the voter's choice for any office to be filled his ballot shall not be counted for such office but the ballot shall be counted for all other offices or places in any office to which more than one candidate is to be elected for which the names of candidates have been properly marked or inserted whether such offices are in the party columns or in the non-partisan column of such ballot and no ballot shall be considered defective merely because any voter has designated his choice of candidates in more than one way except to the extent that the methods used may conflict with each other respecting any particular office or place to be filled

No ballot without the official endorsement shall except as herein otherwise provided be allowed to be deposited in the ballot box and none but ballots provided in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be counted Ballots not marked or so improperly or defectively marked as to be wholly void shall be indorsed as defective or void but shall be preserved with the other ballots and replaced in the ballot box with them If any ballot appears to have been obtained otherwise than as provided in this act the judge of election shall transmit such ballot to the district attorney without delay together with whatever information he may have tending to the detection of the person who deposited the same

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed Provided That such repeal shall not affect any act previously done liability heretofore incurred or right now accrued or vested or affect any suit or presecution pending or to be instituted to enforce any such right or penalty or punish any such offense under the authority of such repealed acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith

Mr. RAMSEY (Speaker pro tempore) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou great guide of all people who ever accomplished anything, through whom alone we can succeed, we pray Thee that we may wisely look over the annals of the past and learn from all peoples, not being satisfied that we in ourselves are self-sufficient. We pray Thee that there may stand before us this morning the mind of the Spartan who loved the land as none perhaps ever did; that Thou wilt give unto us the genius of the Greek, that we may love the city as he loved Athens; we beseech Thee that Thou wilt inspire us with the attitude of the Roman who loved his land and country and all that it stood for; that we may have the spirit of the ancient Jew who loved his tribe as none other race ever did; and we ask Thee that Thou wilt so combine in us all of these elements that out of them may come a higher and truer and nobler and greater love for every branch and part of our land; and such that we may achieve by the combination thereof greater things than we have done in the past. We ask it not that we may be proud and self-conscious, but that higher and better things may be done for the people and the world in which we live. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,
The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this dispensed with,
The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 886, as follows:

An Act dividing the counties of this Commonwealth into eight classes designating the mode of ascertaining and changing the classification of counties and providing for the regulation of their affairs according to their respective classes.

Whereas One of the justices of the Supreme Court in a concurring opinion expressed the thought that counties had never been classified as had cities and

Whereas The General Assembly has heretofore for the purpose of legislation on particular subjects classified counties without regard to any uniformity or general classification many of which acts have been declared unconstitutional and

Whereas The great diversity in population and the physical condition of the several counties requires separate laws for their government and the regulation of their affairs therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That for the purposes of legislation and the regulation of their affairs counties of this Commonwealth now in existence and those hereafter erected shall be divided into eight classes as follows

Those having a population of one million five hundred thousand inhabitants and over shall constitute the first class

Those having a population of eight hundred thousand and more but less than one million five hundred thousand inhabitants shall constitute the second class

Those having a population of two hundred and fifty thousand and more but less than eight hundred thousand shall constitute the third class

Those having a population of one hundred and fifty thousand and more but less than two hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants shall constitute the fourth class

Those having a population of one hundred thousand and more but less than one hundred fifty thousand inhabitants shall constitute the fifth class

Those having a population of fifty thousand and more but less than one hundred thousand inhabitants shall constitute the sixth class

Those having a population of twenty thousand and more but less than fifty thousand inhabitants shall constitute the seventh class

Those having a population of less than twenty thousand inhabitants shall constitute the eighth class

Section 2 The classification of counties shall be ascertained and fixed according to their population by reference from time to time to the last preceding decennial United States census Whenever it shall appear by any such census that any county has attained a population entitling it to an advance in classification as herein prescribed it shall be the duty of the Governor under the great seal of this Commonwealth to certify that fact accordingly which certificate shall be forwarded to the recorder of deeds of the proper county and be recorded in his office.

Section 3 The affairs of counties shall hereafter be legislated for and regulated by the general laws of this Commonwealth applicable to all counties or to particular classes as herein fixed and appointed All laws hereafter adopted by the General Assembly for one or more of the classes herein fixed and appointed shall be deemed to be general laws

Section 4 All acts and parts of acts of Assembly relative to the several counties of this Commonwealth in force prior to the adoption of this act shall remain in force in the same manner and with the same effect in the several counties as prior to the adoption of this act

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,
Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,
The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,
The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1275 (Senate Bill No. 61), entitled

An Act making an appropriation to cover deficiencies in maintenance to the Home for the Training in Speech of Deaf Children Before they are of School Age at Belmont Avenue and Monument Road Philadelphia

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,
Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1192 (Senate Bill No. 132), entitled

An Act to amend section six of an act approved May twenty-third one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four entitled "An Act dividing the cities of this State into three classes regulating the passage of ordinances providing for contracts for supplies and work for said cities authorizing the increase of indebtedness and the creation of a sinking fund to redeem the same defining and punishing certain offenses in all of said cities and providing for the incorporation and government of cities of the third class."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MILNER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I wish to call the attention of the House to the fact that the bill which is now up for final passage is unconstitutional. It is an attempt to amend an act relating to cities so as to provide that all work done on public improvements shall be done within the confines of the city. We passed a similar law at the last session of the Legislature, which came up for decision before our Supreme Court, and was decided, in the case of Taylor vs. Philadelphia, 261 Pa., 458, to be unconstitutional as a violation of Article III, Section 7 of the Constitution, which provides that the Legislature shall pass no special law with respect to labor. They held that this was a special law with respect to labor. The wording of the act of 1917 was precisely the same as that of the act now up for final passage, and that wording is repeated in another act which we will shortly come to. Senate Bill No. 131, a companion act on the next page of our calendar, all drawn by the same man, the only difference between the bills is that the one now before us is an amendment to a former act, while the other is an independent act, and it certainly is just as unconstitutional as an independent act as it would be unconstitutional as an amendment. There have been similar acts passed in New York and other states which have been held by the Supreme Court of New York and by the Supreme Court of the United States as unconstitutional, as a direct interference through the cities with interstate commerce; because our Supreme Court has pointed out that if they sustain acts like this the cities would say that the sash, weights, window frames, mortar, bricks, etc., everything used in public building, should be constructed within the confines of that city, which would exclude all work done outside of such city in the country districts, and even exclude all articles of commerce of other States that might be brought in, and thus thwart business and so thwart interstate commerce. For these reasons I think the bill should be voted down.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar. I am not conversant with the status of these bills, and inasmuch as Senator Patton, the sponsor, is the senator from my own district, I would like a chance to confer with him as the result of Mr. Milner's able objection.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1207 (Senate Bill No. 516), entitled

An Act authorizing certain officers of the United States Army to take acknowledgments of deeds and other instruments in writing

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NAYS—1

Horne,

The majority required by the constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1197 (Senate Bill No. 148), entitled

An Act authorizing recorders of deeds in counties having a population of from one hundred and fifty thousand to five hundred thousand inhabitants to appoint a solicitor prescribing the duties of said solicitor and fixing his term of appointment and salary.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, the recorder of deeds of our county does not now have a solicitor to assist him in his duties. We feel that he can get along without one and we feel that it is unnecessary to burden counties with this additional expense. We ask the members of the House to vote against this measure.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1108 (Senate Bill No. 436), as follows:

An Act amending an act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled "An Act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" by adding thereto Sections twenty to twenty-six inclusive as sub article sixteen of Article sixteen Chapter VI authorizing the erection of dykes and embankments along certain water courses upon the request of the Board of Health granting the right of entry therefor and providing for the assessment of damages and benefits against property affected

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twelve) entitled "An Act providing a system of government for borough and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs is amended by adding to chapter six article sixteen the following sections

(d) ERECTING DYKES AND EMBANKMENTS ALONG CERTAIN WATER COURSES ON REQUEST OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Section 20 Upon the written request of the Board of Health the borough may erect dykes and embankments along any mill race or other unnavigable water course if the same shall be necessary to prevent the water from overflowing the banks thereof and for such purpose may enter upon and condemn such property and materials as may be necessary to complete such work

Section 21 No ordinance for the erection of dykes and embankments under Section twenty hereof shall be passed until notice thereof has been given by publication of the proposed ordinance once a week for three consecutive weeks in one newspaper published in the county

Section 22 When the work of erecting such dykes and embankments has been completed if the borough cannot agree with the property owners as to the payment of the costs and expenses the borough may present its petition to the Court of Common Pleas setting forth the character of such improvements and that the damages costs and expenses incurred have not been paid and praying the court to appoint three freeholders as viewers to ascertain the damages costs and expenses resulting therefrom and to ratably assess the damages costs and expenses or so much thereof as the viewers may deem reasonable upon the property benefited and make report thereof to the court

Section 23 The court or any law judge thereof shall thereupon appoint three viewers from the county board of viewers and appoint a time not less than twenty nor more than thirty days thereafter when the viewers shall meet upon the line of the improvement and view the same

Section 24 The proceedings before such viewers for the allowance of damages for property taken injured or destroyed and for the assessment of benefits upon property benefited shall be as provided in chapter six article two of this act

Section 25 The final assessment against any property shall be a lien for the amount of such assessment dating from the time of the final confirmation of the report or the final decree of the court fixing such assessment if filed in the court within six months from the final assessment or confirmation

Section 26 Nothing contained in Section twenty of this Article or in the sections based thereon shall apply to any water course used by any borough or Water Company as a course of supply unless such borough or Water Company shall consent to such erection of dykes and embankments

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.
